

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

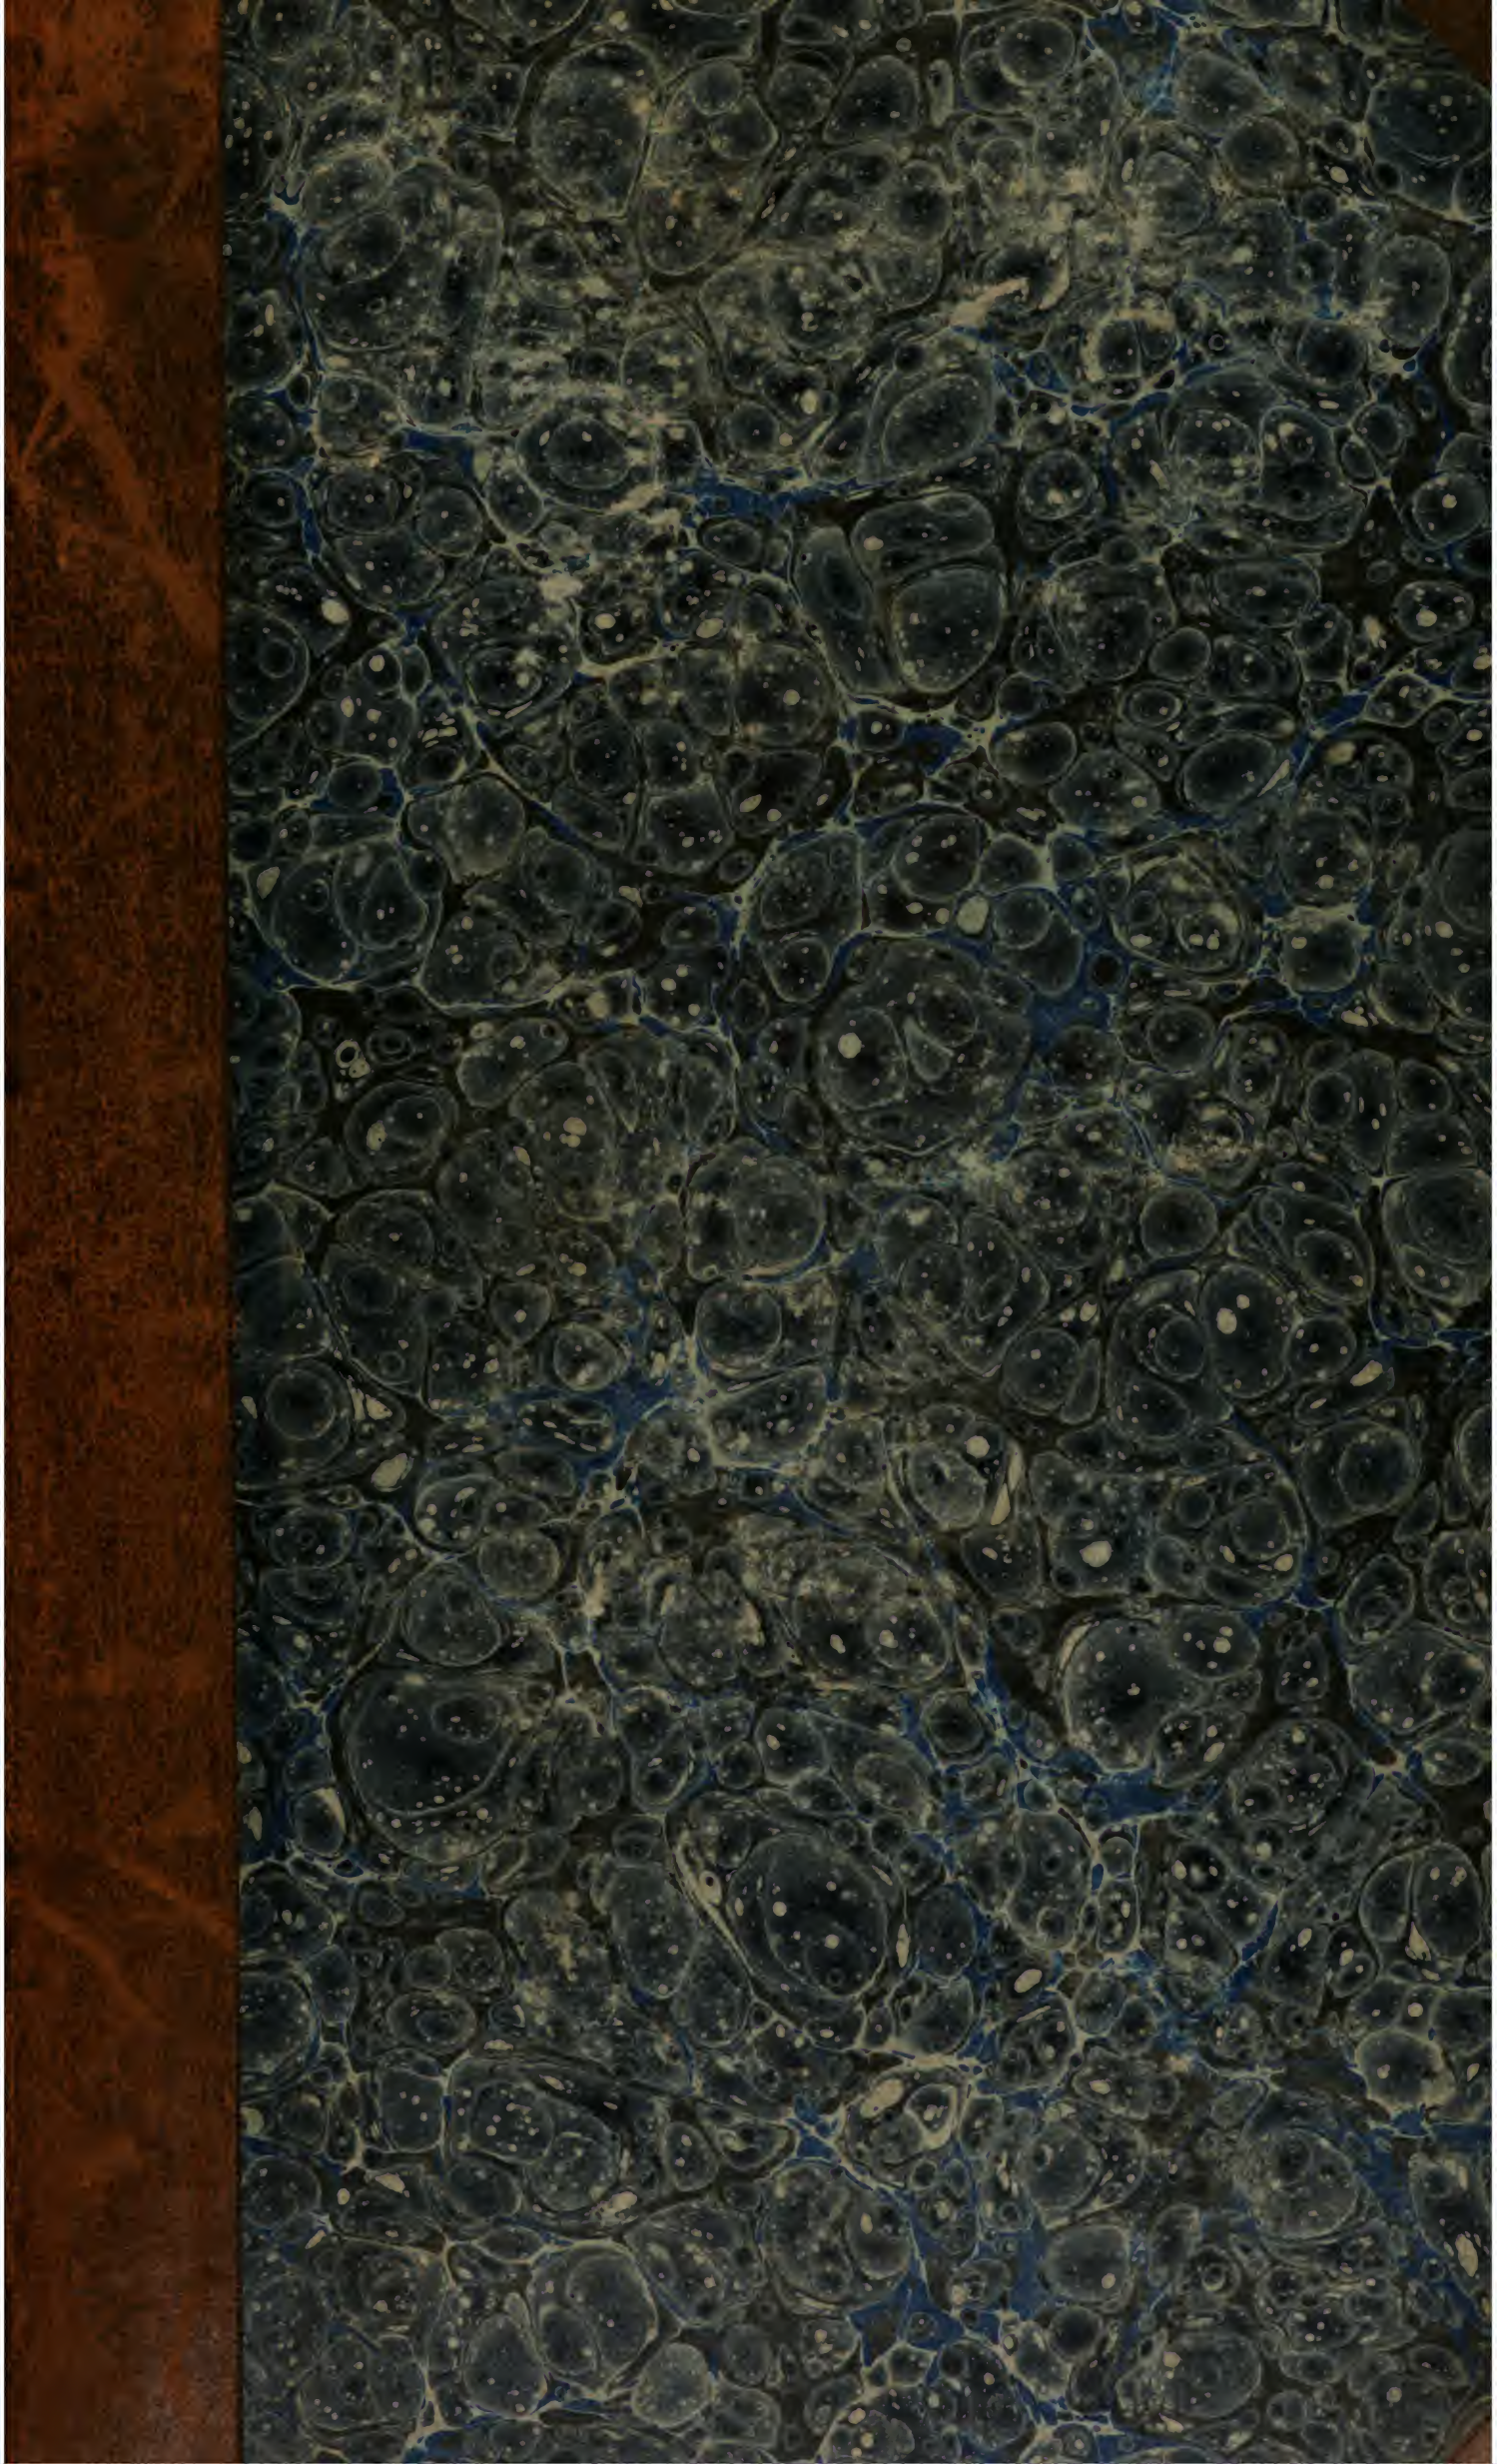

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

-	10 1/4 d.		-			-			1st and 2d Quarters. The long continuance of dry weather has produced an unfavourable change in the appearance of the crops of Corn in the Baltic provinces. The price of Wheat keeps very moderate, owing to government having so amply provided for the wants of the country by foreign importation. Riga, 30 June 1834. Robt Hay, Consul.

October.			November.			December.			3d and 4th Quarters. Wheat and Rye are fair average crops, and heavier than usual; but those of Barley and Oats are short. The result of the harvest throughout the empire is considered satisfactory. Scarcely any exportation of foreign Corn from hence has taken place during this year. By an Imperial Ukase, dated 28th December last, the importation of Corn, Flour, Pease and Beans, is permitted, duty free, in the ports of the Baltic, White Sea and by land, till 1st January 1836. Permission is also given to foreign vessels to carry grain from one Russian port to another during the same period. Riga, 31 December 1834. Robt Hay, Consul.

The harvest in Provence has proved to be very different, occasioned by the dryness of the season; and the same reason is given for the scantiness of its production in Lower Languedoc; but, as Upper Languedoc, Burgundy, and other parts, on which the South of France depends for its supplies, have not suffered in an equal degree, the harvest, on the whole, may be considered as a middling one, and to be sufficient to keep prices at their present rate.

The Consul states that he has travelled through the Duchy for the express purpose of satisfying himself as to the state of the crops, and has observed that a middling good crop of winter-sown corn (namely, Wheat and Rye) may be expected, provided the nights continue free from frost during the blossom time. Barley and Oats very promising, and an abundant harvest may be looked for in these articles. Stock on hand small.

3d Quarter. --Nil.-- 4th Quarter. It is very difficult to form a correct opinion of the results of the harvest of last year, the different accounts respecting it varying extremely ; but the following may be considered as the medium of these reports : Wheat, less abundant than a common year ; Rye, a full average crop ; Barley, much below an average crop ; Oats, an average crop. The cultivation of corn has become more extensive during the last few years, and the export of this article has been greatly on the increase since 1831. (Vide No. 3916.) Elsinore, 31 December 1835. There was no variation during either of the above months.									1st Quarter. The prices of grain have continued on the rise throughout this quarter, on account of the deficiency of last year's crops, and the backwardness of the present one, in consequence of the extraordinary dryness of the season. Should rain, however, fall soon, the harvest may yet prove middling.
									2d Quarter. The harvest is expected only to turn out middling. Cadiz, 30 June 1835. J. D. Gordon, V. Consul.

									4th Quarter. Some partial variations will be noticed in the quotations of the prices of grain during this quarter, and it is probable that little variation will occur for some time, the season having been unusually favourable for all branches of agriculture. October.				November.				December.				3d Quarter. Wheat has been a good crop; rye a middling average; but spring corn is under an average. Still prices of oats are lower than they were, and every kind of corn is extremely dull. Advices, however, from England have rendered the holders of the small stock of wheat on the spot very reluctant to sell. 4th Quarter. The average harvest in the Russian districts of the empire has been satisfactory, but not so in the Baltic provinces, with the exception of wheat, which has turned out tolerably well in Courland. The crop of oats has been abundant in the Russian provinces; in the Baltic and adjacent provinces, oats have been a most deficient crop. Wheat.—The small stock on hand is almost entirely held by speculators; none are inclined to sell under Sil. Ro. 100, or 32 s. 2 d. per quarter for the better parcels. Barley.—There is little or no stock, and purchases are only practicable in Courland. Rye.—Prices have not experienced much variation. The supply from Courland has latterly been pretty brisk. October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The exports, both from this port and Windau, have been so trifling during the quarter as to be hardly worthy of notice. The crops of wheat and rye have turned out middling in quantity, though not satisfactory in quality. All other sorts of grain and pulse have suffered materially from the cold northerly winds and heavy rains which have been generally prevalent; and unless some dry weather comes, to gather in these latter crops, a failure thereof is to be apprehended. The above applies not only to the Duchy of Courland, but to the whole province of Lithuania. Stock on hand exceedingly limited. 4th Quarter. Most unfavourable weather before and since the time of gathering, has materially diminished the crops, and injured the quality of all summer corn. The fields of new wheat and rye render as yet a pretty fair appearance, the weather having proved beneficial to the growing crops, although unfavourable for getting the summer crops in. Stock on hand small.—Wheat 2,000 qrs., rye 3,000 qrs., barley 1,000 qrs., oats 3,000 qrs.; total 9,000 qrs. The prices are much the same at Windau, and the supplies are in the same proportion. The exchange, for want of remitters to London, has declined this quarter 2%.

From places of growth in the Polish provinces to the market of Odessa the cost of carriage it is supposed will amount to 6 R. per chetvert. 3d Quarter.

Crops.—Wheat is said to be of only tolerable quality, but yielding a fair quantity. Barley poor in every respect. Rye much better than was expected, and oats likely to be short. In Poland the crops are favourably reported as to quality, but short as to quantity. Though a dull feeling pervaded the corn trade at various periods during the past quarter, the demand upon the whole sufficed to clear off all the supplies without difficulty. The fine description of wheats seem to have been bought for British account, with the intention of being for the most part stored here for the present. The ordinary kinds appear to be chiefly destined for North America, as is also a portion of rye lately purchased. Flour has also been in great request. The shipments this year up to the end of September have been as follows:

	Wheat.	Rye.	Barley.	Oats.
	Qrs.	Qrs.	Qrs.	Qrs.
To Great Britain - - - -	74,000	4,700	2,500	4,800

France - - - - -	Nil.	—	—	—

North America - - - - -	7,700	1,600	—	—

The present stocks are guessed at, in the absence of official information. Wheat 333,000 qrs., rye 27,000 qrs., oats 4,000 qrs. Freight, to London 5 s. 3 d., Liverpool 5 s., America 10 s., per imperial quarter.

The increase of land sown with linseed last autumn, and the cultivation of mangel wurzel, will much curtail the production of wheat; and it appears that government countenances much the cultivation of these articles. Up to June about 20,000 qrs. of wheat have been shipped to Great Britain, and about 5,500 qrs. to the Channel Islands. There is no official channel for ascertaining the stocks in granary, but it is believed the following is not distant from the truth. Wheat 350,000 qrs., rye 7,000 qrs., barley 1,000 qrs., oats 3,000 qrs.; total, 361,000 qrs. In Prussia, the fields present a fair appearance to the eye, but the farmers generally are apprehensive of rye turning out a short crop. The wheat fields in Poland are pretty favourably spoken of; but rye quite the reverse.

4th Quarter.

In a despatch from Her Majesty's minister at Berlin, it is stated, "The Prussian corn-growers are keeping their wheat on hand under the impression that the British ports will be opened, and that the magazines at the sea-ports are full of corn ready for shipment." The corn trade has been brisk throughout the whole of this quarter. The finer qualities have been regularly sought for on British account. By a new tariff, to come into operation on the 1st of January 1837, a slight alteration is made in the import duties on corn; viz. wheat, in transitu, is raised from 1 s. 2 d. to 1 s. 9 d. per quarter; rye, barley, and oats, in transitu, from 3 ½ d. to 1 s. 2 d. per quarter. Wheat, for consumption, the same as before, 1 s. 2 d. per quarter. Rye, barley, and oats imported for consumption, formerly 2 s. 7 ½ d., now 1 s 9 d. per quarter.

The shipments this year have been,—

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Nil. 4th Quarter. Stock on Hand.—Wheat 6,000 qrs., rye 1,500 qrs., barley 2,000 qrs., oats 7,000 qrs. Sound dues for wheat 5½d. per qr., for rye and barley 3d., oats 1½d. Freight 5 s. to 7 s. p' qr. During the spring and summer months the export of grain was but limited; but the later accounts of a deficiency in America, and that the crops in Great Britain had yielded under an average, gave a decided impulse to speculation during the autumn; and all descriptions of grain (wheat in particular) were sought after, and rapidly rose in price; but the extreme scarcity of shipping, and consequent advance of freights, retarded, in a great degree, the advantage which the rise of prices in foreign markets offered. The late advices, however, from America, that the deficiency there was already supplied, and that the anticipated opportunity of importing this article free into England was groundless, has since considerably checked the eagerness which was before evinced to purchase, and the winter having set in, all business is at a stand.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The harvest in Pomerania of all sorts of corn and grain, may be considered as yielding a good average crop, but the quality is not so fine and heavy as last year. It appears probable the prices may improve, in consequence of the reported failure of the crops in America.

1st Quarter.
Nil.

2d Quarter.
The stocks of grain have decreased since the commencement of the shipping season, but there is a large quantity remaining in granary for Foreign and British account.
In consequence of want of ships, freight has risen from 4 s. 6 d. to 5 s. 6 d. per quarter for Wheat to the East Coast of England.
Königsberg, 30 June 1836.
J. D. Brookmann,
V. Consul.

3d Quarter.
The trade in corn has been dull during the quarter, with the exception of a few purchases for North America of Wheat and Rye.
Stock.—Scanty.
The harvest is now over, and the following may be considered as its result: Wheat, an average crop as to quantity, but of bad quality. Rye, not a rich, but a sufficient crop. Barley and Oats middling, both as to quality and quantity.
No alteration in the Corn Laws.
Exchange.—202 ½ to 201 sil. groschens per £. sterling for three months' bills.
Freight.—From 5 s. to 5 s. 6 d. for the East Coast of England.

4th Quarter.
During the past quarter the trade in corn has been very brisk. Much wheat has been bought for American and British account, some quantity of which latter still remains for shipment, so that part of the stock on hand may be considered as British property.
Stock on hand.—141,000 quarters Wheat; 35,700 quarters Rye; 16,800 quarters Barley; 60,900 quarters Oats.
The following is the quantity exported during the year:—Wheat, 52,836 qrs.; Rye, 73,941 qrs.; Barley, 46,641 qrs.; Oats, 20,443 quarters.—Total, 183,862 quarters.
The supplies of new wheat from the farmer have been but inconsiderable, on account of its inferior quality. Old wheats fetch a much higher price.
Freights.—5 s. to 9 s. per quarter to the different ports of Great Britain.
Königsberg, 31 Dec. 1836.
J. D. Brookmann,
V. Consul.

† grain considerably exceeds the previous estimate, but the quantity of straw is short. The probability of America wanting a supply from the Continent, of a demand from France, and the unfavourable accounts from the North of England, will prevent a decline in the present prices, if not cause a further advance thereof. Barley, in the interior of Germany, promises to be good in quantity and quality. In Holstein and Mecklenburg, quantity good but quality inferior to last year. Oats, it is feared, will prove a failure this season, in these countries. The stocks of old wheat in Germany are nearly exhausted; as also in Holstein and Mecklenburg.

4th Quarter:—Freight, 4 s. 6 d. to 5 s. 6 d. per quarter.

In consequence of demand from abroad, prices got up considerably during this quarter; but when that demand ceased, prices again fell,

Stock on hand.—Wheat, 4,000 qrs.; Rye, 1,500 qrs.; Barley and Oats, nil. The new crops are now beginning to come in, so that the stock on hand will soon be increased. The quality is much inferior to that of last year. The harvest at Wismar has yielded a fair quantity, but the quality is inferior. At Oldenburg, crops fair, both as to quality and quantity. At Rostock, Kiel, and Tönning, harvests below an average, and prices looking up. Stock in hand at Wismar much the same as last reported. See Lubeck, last quarter. Nil at the other places.

The harvest in the province of Friesland has yielded an average crop, of good weight, with the exception of wheat, which is rather light. The low prices of corn have been the cause of between one-third and one-half of the lands usually producing grain being turned to the cultivation of other articles; owing to which, the general produce will be less than in other years.

The harvest of 1836, in the Loire Inférieure, has been about an average one, both in quantity and quality, with this exception, that the Wheats, from the damp state of the atmosphere in August, are not expected to keep well, and are brought forward for immediate sale. The Barleys from several districts are of a very superior quality.

Stock on hand in the Department :

About 25,000 tons of Wheat.
" 8,000 " Rye.
" 3,000 " Oats.
" 3,000 " Barley.

Freight, 28/ per ton have been paid to Bristol with grain, to return with coals.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. — Nil. — 4th Quarter. The heavy rains and severe weather in October and No- vember have proved very prejudicial to agricultural pursuits, and the farmers have been unable to sow in proper season, and much corn land will consequently remain uncultivated this year. A further in- crease in price is to be expected, the stock on hand being small and insufficient for the consumption of the country.

December.			3d Quarter. Freight same as last quarter. The result of the harvest in this part of France not having been as good as expected, a rise has taken place in the prices. 1st Quarter. The prices of grain have continued without any material variation throughout this quarter; but they will probably decline as the harvest approaches, should the fields continue in their present luxuriant state.
2d Quarter. By the quotations will be noticed the gradual decrease in the price of grain, always attendant on the harvest season; but in the present instance, as the consequence of most abundant crops.

3d Quarter. The prices of grain have been on the decline during the quarter. The stock on hand is very considerable, and the harvest has been got in in excellent condition.
4th Quarter. A gradual rise will be noticed in the prices of Wheat, particularly since November, occasioned by the great drought, which, should it continue, will materially affect the prices of grain in general.

The present stock of grain in Carthage and its neighbourhood consists of about 1,000 quarters of Wheat and 1,400 of Barley. No Oats come to this market. The crops of Wheat and Barley present rather an unpromising appearance from the want of rain; and the prices, in consequence, are high.

The prices of Wheat and Barley have somewhat fallen during the quarter, which is owing to all the new crops having been brought into the market. The harvest has proved middling, and prices are likely to remain as they are.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The diminution in the prices of Wheat, as compared with the quarter ending June last, is owing to the crops of the last harvest having been abundantly brought to market for sale. 4th Quarter. Exchange almost invariable at 38d. for every 15 rials vellon received in Spain. Stock on hand: About 6,000 fanegas, or 1,200 quarters of Wheat; 1,400 quarters of Barley. Prices have risen of late, and the crops of Wheat and Barley throughout the province have a very bad aspect, and the next harvest, it is thought, will be deficient unless abundant rains set in soon. Carthage, 31 December 1836. Matthew Carter, Consul.

The few arrivals of corn from abroad having given time for the consumption of the State to decrease the deposit, prices have advanced, which, however, is not likely to last long.

The above are the average prices for each month.									2d Quarter. Stock on hand: 22,000 qrs. Wheat, and 2,530 qrs. Oats. Freight, 6s. 6d. per quar- ter, with 10% for primage. The severe weather, dur- ing the early part of the year, has caused the har- vest to be very backward, so that it is difficult to say how it may turn out; but the great heat which has set in makes the farmers expect it to be abundant, and the grain of a superior quality. Leghorn, 30 June 1836. Jn° Falconar, Consul.
October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Taken on the aggregate, the Wheat harvest has turned out satisfactorily, and the same may be said of the qualities of the other corn. Stock on hand: Wheat, about 81,656 qrs., and 293 qrs. of Oats. Freight, 6s. 6d. per Winchester quarter, with 10% primage. 4th Quarter. Stock on hand: Qrs. Wheat - - 66,470 Barley - - 25 Oats - - 1,970 Total - - 68,465 Freight 6s. 6d. per Winchester quarter, and 10% primage. The scarcity of the crop of Indian corn has caused a rise in the price of Wheat, but it has been of short duration, and prices have again declined. Leghorn, 31 December 1836. Jn° Falconar, Consul.

27/2-30/4	23/1-25/9	53/11						1st Quarter.—The land holders and farmers keep back a good deal of their supplies, in the expectation of obtaining better market prices at a later period. Our present stocks, on the spot, consist of about 2,000 quarters of Wheat, 25,000 quarters of Rye, 3,000 quarters of Barley, and 5,000 quarters of Oats. The port of Windau holds this winter larger supplies of grain than has been the case these three years past. For want of drawers, the course of exchange on London has continued rising considerably the last quarter.
16/3-17/7	13/10-14/11	33/10
14/8-16/7	12/6-14/1	28/7
7/11-8/11	6/8-7/7	23/3
The above are the average prices of the quarter.									2d Quarter.—Owing to the heavy falls of snow in the beginning of April, the fields of Wheat and Rye have suffered material injury in Courland and Lithuania. It is admitted that the crops will turn out by one-third smaller than at other fair averaging years. Barley and Oats render still a promising appearance. Our present supplies are about—Wheat, 1,500 qrs.; Rye, 1,500 qrs.; Barley, 20,000 qrs.; Oats, 3,000 qrs.

13/5-14/8	11/5-12/7	28/11
7/9-9/	6/7-7/9	20/7
The above are the average prices of the quarter.									4th Quarter.—The favourable weather during the latter part of the fall has evidently improved our fields of winter corn, and in particular those of Rye, which has not immediately suffered from the worm, and a fine spring next year may bring forth copious crops. The last of summer grain renders, after thrashing, a far better result than was expected at first, both with regard to quality and quantity. Our present supplies are but insignificant:—Wheat, 1,000 qrs.; Rye, 12,000 qrs.; Barley, 5,000 qrs.; and Oats, 1,000 qrs. The current freight to England, 6s. 6d. per quarter. Exchange a pretty high rate, for want of drawers. Liebau, 31 December 1837. Franz Kienitz, Consul.

The Wheat has proved, on an average, of inferior quality, and in bad condition. The condition of other grain was also not good, but otherwise of tolerable quantity. About the beginning of the quarter a considerable quantity of Flour, and some of the granary dry fine Wheats, were bought for British account; but lately there has been no demand for any kind of grain, which prevents prices being stated with accuracy; but they may be quoted nominally: of Wheat, 27s. to 42s.; Rye, 17s. to 18s.; Barley, 14s. to 15s.; and Oats, 11s. to 12s. per imperial quarter. Freight to London, 5s.; New York, 15s. 4d. per quarter for Wheat. 2d Quarter.—The supplies from Poland, of Wheat in particular, have been extensive, and at this moment it is computed there are lying on the banks of the river in the open air about 84,000 quarters. The entire arrivals this year consist of about—Wheat, 252,000 qrs.; Rye, 76,650 qrs.; Barley, 5,250 qrs.; Oats, 10,500 qrs. The present stocks in granaries are said to be about—Wheat, 526,500 qrs.; Rye, 53,896 qrs.; Barley, 1,333 qrs.; Oats, 70,879 qrs. The shipments since open water are as follows:— To Britain: Wheat, 83,509 qrs.; Rye, 11,361 qrs.; Barley, 976 qrs.; Oats, 3,948 qrs. To Jersey and Guernsey: Wheat, 12,715 qrs.; Rye, 104 qrs.; Barley, 504 qrs.; Oats, 346 qrs. To Holland: Wheat, 5,785 qrs.; Rye, 4,882 qrs. To other countries: Wheat, 18,564 qrs.; Rye, 39,228 qrs.; Barley, 1,281 qrs. The season has been universally severe, cold rains prevailing until the middle of June. The harvest will be a very late one. The low lands have suffered much from inundation. Freight to London, 5s. 3d. Danzig, 30 June 1837. H. R. Plawe, Consul.

It is supposed that about two-thirds of the growth in this neighbourhood were housed before the rains. For authentic accounts from Poland it is too early; reports state a much smaller proportion had been saved. The entire crop, it is thought, will prove an average one. Rye, the crop short by one-third of last season, but of superior quality; about one-sixth has been exposed to the wet weather. Barley, fine in quality, and an average crop. Oats, a very thin crop; it is not expected to yield more than home consumption will require, consequently none for exportation; much is on the ground; what has been housed early is of good quality. 4th Quarter.—NIL Danzig, 31 December 1837. H. It is supposed that about two-thirds of the growth in this neighbourhood were housed before the rains. For authentic accounts from Poland it is too early; reports state a much smaller proportion had been saved. The entire crop, it is thought, will prove an average one. Rye, the crop short by one-third of last season, but of superior quality; about one-sixth has been exposed to the wet weather. Barley, fine in quality, and an average crop. Oats, a very thin crop; it is not expected to yield more than home consumption will require, consequently none for exportation; much is on the ground; what has been housed early is of good quality. 4th Quarter.—NIL Danzig, 31 December 1837. H. R. Plawe, Pro-Consul.

Wheat - - 12,600 Rye - - 6,300 Barley - - 2,100 Oats - - 4,200 The various and contradictory accounts which have been received from all quarters render it impossible to give a decided opinion whether the harvest of this year has fallen out either good or bad, with the exception of Rye, which seems generally to have been a failure. The cold rainy weather, however, in spring, and the hot summer, have been so unfavourable, that an average harvest of any kind of grain can scarcely have taken place. 4th Quarter. Stock on hand : Qrs. Wheat - - 8,400 Rye - - 3,150 Barley - - 2,100 Oats - - 2,100 Sound Dues : For Wheat, 5½ d.; for Rye and Barley, 3 d.; and for Oats, 1½ d. per quarter. Freight : 5 s. 6 d. to 6 s. 6 d. per quarter. The harvest of all sorts of grain in the different provinces has fallen out very considerably under average. Rye has been a complete failure. Freight to London, about 4 s. 6 d. per quarter. 4th Quarter.—There is a tendency to decline in the price of Wheat, and to an improvement in Rye, because the latter proves to be very deficient in most countries. 									1st Quarter. Until the beginning of March the prices of wheat kept stationary; the large supplies which then arrived, while there was no demand for export, with discouraging prospects of trade in England, have caused a gradual and considerable decline, and still at this decline no disposition to buy beyond the mere wants for home consumption. Shipments have been made from hence to neighbouring ports for the United States of America, but the grain had been bought already, months ago. The present stock of wheat is computed at 65,000 qrs. The shipments in this quarter have been, Wheat, 24,900 qrs.; Rye, 7,500 qrs.; Barley, 10,700 qrs.; Oats, 1,100 qrs.—Of which to British ports, Wheat, 2,000 qrs.; Rye, 900 qrs., and Barley, 7,700 qrs. Freight.—To British ports, 3s. to 4s. sterling per quarter. 2d Quarter. Nil. Hamburg, 30 June 1837. Henry Canning, Consul-General. 3d Quarter. The prices of agricultural produce seem to be without variation this quarter. No foreign demand for corn, and the prospects of a fair harvest, have kept the prices of grain stationary. The exports of grain in this quarter have been, Wheat, 23,000 qrs.; Rye, 6,300 qrs.; Barley, 3,500 qrs.; Oats, 1,300 qrs. Of which have been sent to Great Britain, Wheat, 8,300 qrs.; Barley, 300 qrs.; Oats, 300 qrs. Stock of Grain on hand, 30th September, estimated at, Wheat, 51,000 qrs.; Rye, 22,000 qrs.; Barley, 29,000 qrs.; Oats, 7,000 qrs. Freight.—To London and east coast of England, 2s. 6d. per quarter for grain. 4th Quarter. There has been no fluctuation in the prices of grain during this quarter. No unusual demand for exports. No complaints of the quality or quantity of the produce of the last harvest, which has yielded throughout an average crop. The shipments in the last quarter have been, Wheat, 22,800 qrs.; Rye, 6,300 qrs.; Barley, 3,000 qrs.; Oats, 2,300 qrs. Of which to Great Britain, Wheat, 1,100 qrs.; Barley, 400 qrs.; Oats, 700 qrs. The shipments from here in the whole year 1837, Wheat, 107,700 qrs.; Rye, 47,600 qrs.; Barley, 22,700 qrs.; Oats, 6,100 qrs. Of which, Wheat, 2,500 qrs.; Rye, 1,000 qrs.; Barley, 9,300 qrs.; Oats, 1,700 qrs. to British ports.—Stock on hand.—Wheat, 30,000 qrs.; Rye, 18,000 qrs.; Barley, 6,000 qrs.; Oats, 3,500 qrs.

The Returns for this Quarter are wanting.									1st Quarter. Notwithstanding the unfavourable state of the weather, some shipments of grain took place from this and the neighbouring small ports, which may be estimated at 7,000 quarters of wheat; 3,500 qrs. to America, 1,500 qrs. to Liverpool, 1,500 qrs. to Bourdeaux, and 500 qrs. to Bremen. Freight : The freights paid were 5 s. to 5 s. 6 d. per quarter for wheat to Liverpool, and 12 s. 6 d. to 14 s. per quarter for wheat to America. Stock in hand : Wheat - - 6,000 qrs. Rye - - 1,500 Barley - - 1,500 Oats - - 1,500 The continued bad winter weather must have damaged all the winter corn, and as the spring corn cannot yet be sown, the fields being covered with snow, it is expected the harvest of this year will be very late, and very scanty. The prolonged winter and bad weather causes a stagnation in all kinds of business. 2d Quarter. No Returns. Lubeck, 31 March 1837. Henry Canning, Consul-General.

REMARKS.

1st Quarter.

The quoted prices of wheat, barley, and oats may be considered merely as nominal, as they are in no demand. Rye is the only grain of which considerable purchases have been made for account of Holland and Zealand.

2d Quarter.

Since the navigation opened at this port we have had 886 vessels, of which 350 were British. Average rate of exchange on London, 10 1/2 d. per Ro. B. Note.

Riga, 30 June 1838.

Robt. Hay,
Consul.

3d Quarter.

The wheat harvests in the Baltic provinces, in Lithuania, and in White Russia, have been a total failure; but the prospect of the spring crops of rye and corn are more favourable. Still the rye harvest in Germany, Belgium, and Holland, has turned out below a middling average. The prices of this grain continued high in this market. About 106,000 quarters have been bought on contract for next May delivery by the barks, and the market has been quite cleared of the old stock by an exportation this summer of 17,500 lasts to Holland, Sweden, and Norway. The two last countries have also taken the small stock of barley that remained. There are upwards of 70,000 qrs. of oats on hand, the demand for Scotland not having taken place. There is a mere trifle of wheat left.

4th Quarter.

The exportation of corn to Great Britain was limited to about 600 lasts of wheat; but of rye, Holland has imported about 11,000 lasts, and Sweden and Norway about 7,000, in all 20,000 lasts of rye have been shipped. Of barley, about 2,000 lasts have been exported, principally to Sweden and Norway. Of oats, only 884 lasts. There is no Courland wheat on the market, and the crops there and in Lithuania have proved a complete failure, but in the Russian provinces they have been tolerably abundant, although not of heavy weight.

Riga, 31 Dec. 1838.

Robt. Hay,
Consul.

The above are the average prices for the Quarter.									1st Quarter. Trade has experienced a material revival. A fine winter and good sledge-roads have favoured the supplies of all country produce. Prices of exports are on the advance, and a lively commercial intercourse is to be expected at the opening of the navigation. The fields are still covered with snow. The present supplies are calculated at about 4,000 qrs. wheat, 40,000 qrs. rye, 70,000 qrs. barley, 15,000 qrs. oats. 2d Quarter. Wheat has suffered from the long, severe, and dry frost during last winter, in such a measure that we have to expect a very short crop and continued high prices. Rye promises a middling crop. Owing to continual night frosts in the month of May, and drought now, both summer corn, barley and oats, and all summer produce, even to fodder for cattle, threaten to turn out bad. Liebau, 30 June 1838. Francis Kienitz, Consul.
October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The wheat crops have almost entirely failed, whilst the rye may be represented as middling. In consequence of very fine weather the last three weeks, the crops of barley and oats have turned out middling good. 4th Quarter. The new winter wheat and rye appear to have suffered materially by the bad weather, and rendered by no means any prospect of good crops for the next year. Our stock on hand is very limited, as want of winter and sledge-roads prevent the arrival of fresh supplies. Our market may contain about 500 qrs. wheat, 12,000 qrs. rye, 10,000 qrs. barley, and 200 qrs. of oats. Liebau, 31 Dec. 1838. Francis Kienitz, Consul.

The entire failure of the potatoe crops of last season has effected a considerable rise in the price of rye, which is still increasing. 2d Quarter. The demand for all sorts of grain for the last quarter has been on the increase, and the prices continue to maintain themselves. Wheat, it is expected, will, in particular, rise still higher, as most of the fields have been ploughed over again, and sown with summer grain. It is much feared that the potatoe crops will again turn out badly; and vessels continue to arrive with this article from Holland and Stettin. Memel, 30 June 1838. W. J. Hertsllet, Consul. 3d Quarter. The reports of the complete failure of the harvest in England, and in the adjacent provinces here, had the effect of raising the prices of all sorts of grain considerably. 4th Quarter. The stock of wheat is very inconsiderable, owing to the crops having almost entirely failed. The supplies, which had accumulated for the last two years, have, in consequence of the demand for the British market, been shipped to English and Scotch ports. The prices have consequently advanced, both for home consumption and for exportation. The inclement weather during harvest damaged all descriptions of grain. The crops of rye have not yielded an average. Notwithstanding the unusually mild weather, and the harbours being open, no shipments have taken place, nor have any vessels arrived. Memel, 31 December 1838. W. J. Hertsllet, Consul.

REMARKS.

1st Quarter.

The trade during the last three months in corn, as well as other branches, was in a complete state of stagnation. In the interior provinces there is an actual scarcity both of human and cattle food.

Stock on hand:

Wheat, 170,000 qrs.; Rye, 15,000 qrs.; Barley, 10,000 qrs.; Oats, 50,000 qrs. Exchange as last quarter: 205 silv. groschen per £. sterling for three months' bills.

2d Quarter.

The trade in corn has gained a lively appearance; wheat has been the favourite article. Rye, of which about 30,000 qrs. arrived from Poland, was also in brisk demand.

Stock on hand:

Wheat, 130,000 qrs.; Rye, 10,000 qrs.; Oats, 50,000 qrs. The winter lasted until the latter part of April, and the spring was unusually cold, and the frost so very long under ground, that all crops are uncommonly backward. Exchange has fluctuated from 204 to 202 silver groschen the £. sterling on England. Navigation opened on 26 April.

Freights for the east coast of England, 5s. to 5s. 6d. per quarter.

Königsberg,
30 June 1838.

J. D. Brookman,
Vice-Consul.

3d Quarter.

We have had a very lively trade in corn, and a considerable quantity of wheat was exported to England; so that from about 160,000 quarters that were in stock in January, about 40,000 qrs. of old wheat remain. The stock of old rye is reduced to about 1,500 quarters; and of barley there is nothing left. Of old oats, about 70,000 qrs. remain. The weather in July and August very ungenial. The greater part of the new grain is of inferior quality, and in bad condition. Rye, a full average crop, but in bad condition. Barley and oats, partly destroyed by bad weather. Exchange on England has fluctuated from 202 to 203 silver groschen the £. sterling.

Freight:—From 5s. to 7s. per quarter, wheat, and down again to 4s. 6d., for the east and west coasts of Great Britain.

† the provinces more or less, rye has averaged a full crop. The exchange on England from 202 to 199 silver groschen per £. sterling, for three months' bills, and seems still on the decline. Freight from 6s. to 9s. per quarter for wheat to the east coast of Great Britain.

Königsberg, 31 December 1838.

J. D. Brookman, Vice-Consul.

Rye has suffered most materially. Wheat is expected to yield a full crop, though the quality may have suffered. The shipments of grain from this port this year have been 191,000 qrs. Wheat, 27,000 qrs. Rye, 5,500 qrs. Barley, 4,000 qrs. Oats.

The demand for wheat in England has raised the prices, and although the interruption to shipping has, at the end, rather reduced prices, they are expected to revive, and even advance, when the navigation is open. Wheat has proved an average crop, and the quality not bad, but shipments have reduced the stock materially. The shipments of grain have been this year (1838), 277,000 qrs. Wheat, 35,000 qrs. Rye, 1,700 qrs. Barley, 700 qrs. Oats. Stock on hand: 160,000 qrs. Wheat, 7,000 qrs. Rye, 2,200 qrs. Oats; no Barley. Through the deficiency of the crops in England, there has been a great demand for corn here, and a great advance in the price; large shipments have been made to England, which would have been greater had not the winter season intervened. Our shipments have amounted to about 15,000 quarters. Wheat to England, 800 qrs.; Rye, to Sweden and Norway, 1,500 qrs.; Barley, 1,000 qrs. to England, and 500 qrs. to Sweden and Norway. Our present stock is about 15,000 qrs. Wheat, 6,500 qrs. Rye, 5,000 qrs. Barley, 800 qrs. Oats. Freights averaged 5s. to 6s. to the east coast of England in October and November, and 8s. to 9s. in December, with 10% primeage per quarter for wheat. Lubeck, 31 December 1838. October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Every description of grain has produced more than an average, and all of an excellent quality. 4th Quarter. The large quantities of wheat exported to England have made the price of grain rise, and have caused serious riots and disturbances throughout the district. The people having taken arms to prevent the exportation, a large military force has been necessary to protect it, and to prevent the most alarming consequences. Charente, 31 December 1838. John F. Close, Consul.

1st Quarter.

There being no public granaries, cannot ascertain the stock on hand, but it is supposed to be about 17,857 Winchester quarters of wheat. Freight to England, 4s. to 4s. 6d. per quarter, five quarters to the ton.

2d Quarter.

Freight as last quarter.

Bordeaux,
30 June 1838.
T. B. G. Scott,
Consul.

3d Quarter.

Stock on Hand:
The quantity of wheat is estimated at 3,572 quarters. The harvest, in general, has proved deficient, both in quantity and quality; the consequence has been a rise in the prices. The importation and exportation of corn and grain is allowed at all times, on payment of certain duties, which vary according to the average price of the article. (Law of 25th April 1832).

4th Quarter.

No stock on hand. Freight to England, 4s. to 4s. 6d., but owing to the scarcity of vessels, it has risen to 8s. and 10s. per quarter, five quarters to the ton.

Bordeaux,
31 December 1838.
T. B. G. Scott,
Consul.

The supplies of Odessa Wheat have arrived in large quantities, and been received in bond; large sales have been effected, but without any material difference in price. 2d Quarter. — Wheat has continued nearly stationary. The prospect of the present harvest is considered good. In consequence of the decrease of the duty on importation of Corn into England, about 2,200 qrs. have been shipped from hence to London and Liverpool, and further purchases have been made, waiting for British shipping. The present stock of Wheat is about 8,276 qrs., but large arrivals are expected from the Black Sea. Marseilles, 30 June 1838. Alex. Turnbull, Consul.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. — Wheat appears to be generally scarce and dear throughout the Mediterranean; and consequently a rise in price during the winter is anticipated. The stock of Wheat in consumption is estimated at 22,857 qrs., and that in bond about the same quantity. 4th Quarter. — Wheat of good quality in consumption has gradually risen from 58s. to 63s. per qr., and some sales have been made as high as 64s. The stock in hand is about 16,660 qrs. The importation of Wheat has been extensive; about November, a large speculative demand took place, founded upon the anticipated scarcity in England; about 70,000 qrs., chiefly Black Sea Wheat, were purchased for delivery within six months, varying from 39s. 6d. to 46s. 6d. p'qr. The stock of Wheat has been increased within these few days by large arrivals from the Black Sea, and may be estimated at 83,000 qrs. Marseilles, 31 December 1838. Alex. Turnbull, Consul.

The above are the average prices for each month.									1st Quarter. — Nil. — 2d Quarter. The present har- vest may be consi- dered to produce a fair average crop in quality; in quantity excellent. All grain will be cheaper, on account of the har- vest of the adjoin- ing provinces having been so superabun- dant. Cadiz, 30 June 1838. John David Gordon, V. Consul.
October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. — Nil. — 4th Quarter. Grains, during this quarter, have con- tinued at nearly the same prices quoted in the last, and no material variation is likely to affect them for a time. Cadiz, 31 December 1838. John David Gordon, V. Consul.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Trade still continues on the decline, owing to the contract transactions in Russia in produce. The harvest in the Baltic provinces has proved most unsatisfactory in respect to Wheat. The stock of Wheat being so limited, and the prices so high, the exportation has not exceeded 36,074 quarters, of which 28,991 quarters were for the United Kingdom. Rye also has proved deficient. Barley very poor, out of which only 12,988 quarters were cleared out for the United Kingdom. Oats as little satisfactory; but the store from last year has permitted an exportation of 185,000 quarters, of which 181,000 quarters were for the United Kingdom. 4th Quarter. — Nil. — Riga, 31 December 1839. In consequence of the great fall of snow last winter, and the lateness of the spring, the new crops threaten to turn out but middling, for much Wheat and Rye was found rotten when the snow cleared off. Liebau, 30 June 1839. F. October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Our supplies are at present very inconsiderable. Of Wheat there is none; of Rye, about 4,000 qrs.; Barley, 1,500 qrs.; Oats, 1,000 qrs. 4th Quarter. The last crops of grain, in particular Wheat and Rye, have proved very short in quantity in Courland and adjacent provinces. From the foregoing cause, and the bad roads, which prevent arrivals from the interior, our supplies here and at Windau are but insignificant. On the spot, we consider them about 1,000 qrs. Wheat, 6,000 qrs. Rye, 8,000 qrs. Barley, and 500 qrs. Oats. Our winter corn, in the fields, gives every prospect of a fine and copious crop next year. Liebau, 31 December 1839. F. October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The harvest bore marks of most promising appearance to the end of July of being exceedingly good and plentiful; later accounts, however, give less favourable expectations, owing to torrents of rain which have fallen without interruption from the beginning of August to the present time.

With reference to what I stated in my last Return, relative to the harvest in the northern counties within this Consulate, it is later fully ascertained that the uncommonly beautiful weather which set in during the latter part of September made a wonderful change in quantity and quality of the crops, which are both considered pretty good, and equal to a middling year's produce.

The corn trade has experienced many fluctuations, and the expectation of higher prices of Wheat in Great Britain has been frustrated. The importation of corn and grain from the country and Silesia, particularly of Wheat, has been about—Wheat, 100,000; Rye, 40,000; Barley, 12,000; Oats, 10,000 quarters. The quantity now exporting to Great Britain is about 100,000 quarters. Wheat and some Rye; but to Holland, Norway and the Rhine large quantities of Rye will be shipped, so that the stock on hand will be very small, although enough for home consumption. Freight to England, 5s. to 6s. per quarter Wheat.

Fluctuations still continue in the corn trade, particularly in Wheat, and prices gradually decline; this is chiefly attributed to the situation of the British markets, and the fine weather so favourable to the young crops. Importation: Wheat, 108,000; Rye, 80,000; Barley, 33,000; Oats, 20,000 quarters. Exportation: Wheat, 70,000 quarters, chiefly to Great Britain, 100,000 up to 31st March. Some Rye to Great Britain, Norway and Holland; but the greater quantity to the interior of Germany. Stock on hand: Wheat - - - 30,000 Rye - - - 26,000 Barley - - - 5,000 Oats - - - 5,000 Freight, 4s. 6d. to 5s.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The Wheat crops have proved abundant, and the quality, with few exceptions, very fine, and housed in very good condition. Rye has not been so favourable, nor has Barley been fine, as the quality is light and deficient in colour. Oats are a fair crop, but the quality not so good as usual. Importation: Wheat, 40,000; Rye, 23,500; Barley, 7,200; Oats, 11,200 quarters, imperial measure. The stock here is very inconsiderable, as the exportation has been extensive, about 300,000 quarters Wheat, chiefly to Great Britain, during the year. Freight, 4s. 6d. to 5s.

The whole quantity of corn and grain arrived here during the year—Wheat, 273,000; Rye, 166,200; Barley, 74,000; Oats, 51,200 imperial quarters. The exportation has been most extensive, chiefly to Great Britain; but also to France, Holland, Denmark and Norway. The stock of corn and grain is not considerable, but will be much increased by supplies from Silesia, Pomerania and Poland. Freight to Great Britain, 5s. to 8s. per quarter.

The whole quantity, therefore, that may be calculated upon to go from hence in the spring and summer will scarcely exceed 50,000 qrs. Of Rye, about 60,000 qrs. are ready for exportation. October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Little business doing in the Corn trade, yet prices keep up. The stock of old Wheat is reduced to nearly nothing; the supplies come but sparingly. The stock of Rye, about 40,000 qrs.; Oats, 30,000 qrs. Wheat, a middling crop as to quantity, rather under an average, the quality varying so much. Rye, a short crop, and the quality poor and inferior, in most parts. Barley and Oats have suffered much by the weather, and are neither rich in quality or quantity. Freight, from 5s. to 6s. per quarter for the East coast, and 6s. 6d. to 7s. to the West coast of England. 4th Quarter. Corn trade not very lively; however, nearly all the old Wheat, and also some of the last crop, were shipped off previous to the close of the season. Stock on hand: Wheat, 34,500 qrs.; Rye, 94,000 qrs.; Barley, 10,500 qrs.; Oats, 13,500 qrs.; so that there is but little left. The quantity of Grain exported in 1839: Wheat, 114,691 qrs.; Rye, 209,002 qrs.; Barley, 32,214 qrs.; Oats, 67,137 qrs. Freights, 6s. to 8s. 6d. per quarter Wheat for East coast of Great Britain. Konigsberg, 31 December 1839. Wheat to England; 500 qrs. Rye to Norway; 4,500 qrs. of Barley to England; 500 qrs. Barley to Norway. Stock on hand: Wheat, 8,000 qrs.; Barley, 2,000 qrs.; Rye, 4,000 qrs.; Oats, 600 qrs. The transactions with England, in corn, have not been so lively as had been expected; a general disposition to sell on all the leading markets having apparently depressed the spirit of speculation. Present average prices: Wheat, 48 s. to 49 s.; Rye, 22 s. to 23 s.; Barley, 22 s. 6 d. to 23 s.; Oats, 14 s. to 16 s.

(5,000 to England, 500 to Holland); Rye, 2,500 qrs. (2,000 to Holland, 500 to Norway); Barley, 1,500 qrs. (1,200 to England, 300 to Norway.) Stock on hand: Wheat, 2,500 qrs.; Rye, 2,500 qrs.; Barley, 300 qrs. Freight to eastern coast of England, 4 s. 6 d. per qr. Lubeck, 30 June 1839.

Wheat and 1,200 qrs. Barley to England and Scotland. Although the shipments have ceased, the corn trade is in an improving state, and will become brisk in the spring. Stock on hand: Wheat, 2,000 qrs.; Rye, 2,000 qrs.; Barley, 10,000 qrs.; Oats, 1,000 qrs. New Wheat of good quality, and weighing on an average about 60 lbs. per imperial bushel. Some exports of Wheat to Great Britain have taken place, but, owing to the decline in the averages there, they have now ceased. The supply of Wheat, especially good quality, is very small, and on the rise in the country. The demand for Rye has been limited of late, but is again improving. 2d Quarter. Crops are in a favourable condition, and every prospect of being abundant, which is much wanted, the supplies up the country being entirely exhausted. No shipments to Great Britain. Amsterdam, 30 June 1839. Robert Melvil, Consul.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The result of the crops has not proved so large as expected. Wheat is considered a small crop, Rye and Oats an average, Barley and Buckwheat much below an average, particularly the latter, and it is expected that present prices are not likely to give way. 4th Quarter. After having experienced an advance, the prices of Wheat, Barley and Oats have finished by a decline. A great quantity of rain has fallen, with unusually mild weather, which causes some apprehension as to crops in the ground, should frost suddenly set in. The duties on Rye and Barley have undergone a diminution. Amsterdam, 31 December 1839. Robert Melvil, Consul.

During these three months 17 English and 26 Foreign ships have sailed for England with 57,340 quarters. The stock of Wheat in consumption is estimated at 29,000 quarters. The averages taken for this district on 31st March fix the regulating price of Wheat at 23 francs 88 cents per hectolitre=58 s. 4 d. per quarter; according to which Foreign Wheat is admitted at consumption at the duty of 8 s. per quarter by French ships, and 11 s. 1 d. The markets for corn have been very inactive. About the end of April there was some demand for bonded Wheat, in consequence of the Neapolitan ports being opened until 5th June, without duty; but the demand soon ceased, and a heavy fall in the price of Wheat in bond has taken place in consequence of large shipments from the Black Sea, and the abundant appearance of harvest; although here and in Lower Languedoc, the crops have suffered from rain. Soft Odessa Wheat, that was sold at the end of March at 35 s. 7 d. per quarter, may now be bought at 30 s. Stock of Wheat in bond is estimated at 27,777 quarters. The fall of this article depends much on the result of the harvest in England. Exported, Wheat, 5,860 quarters. Freight, 5 s. to 6 s. per quarter.

The prices would have declined in consequence of the discouraging advices from England as well as from the Continent, were there any stock on hand of any kind of grain, excepting Rye. However, the demand has abated very much. Oats alone seem in some request. The supply by the barks of every description of corn, except Rye, will be but trifling, and a large proportion of the Rye here, and expected, will be stopped for St. Petersburg, where this article is very scarce. — 2d Quarter. —Nil.— Riga, 30 June 1840. October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. —Nil.— — 4th Quarter. In consequence of the closing of the Duna by ice, all exportation of produce must cease. The transactions in Wheat, Barley and Oats are confined to retail purchases for the consumption of Riga. The harvest throughout the empire has averaged badly in every respect; and as there are no old stocks left, the new spring corn will be required for home consumption. Thus the exportation of corn for the year 1841 may be considered impracticable. Riga, 31 December 1840. James Baker, Consul.

The greatest part of our stock of Rye was sent to St. Petersburg, to fill up the Crown magazines. Prices of corn and grain have risen since winter, as the demand proved greater than our supplies, which are become so insignificant as not to be worth stating. Liebau, 30 June 1840. F. The stock on hand of Wheat is only sufficient to supply the town's consumption : Qrs. Rye - - - - 4,000 Barley - - - - 2,500 Oats - - - - 1,500 The winter corn gives a promising appearance. 									Grain trade quite inactive, and prices quoted nominal; they are too high for foreign markets, and they do not fall, because no abundant supplies are expected from the country, where a scarcity is expected, by reason of the failure of all the winter grains. The few purchases are to fill up the chartered ships, rather than let them return empty. The accounts from the country are more and more alarming. Wheat has been purchased for the central governments in which the Rye has failed. Freight to England, 2l. 15s. and 3l. per ton.

The harvest in the provinces of Bergen and Drontheim, and the Nordlands, were most promising to the middle of July, since which time, owing to great falls of rain and cold weather, those prospects have become very gloomy, and, unless fine and warm weather sets in to ripen the corn, the farmers are very much alarmed as to the result of the harvest. 4th Quarter. 20/5-21/	20/1-20/8	36/2	45/10	45/3	66/				1st Quarter. Wheat is in considerable demand both for the English and French markets but the last accounts of a depression in price has checked speculation. Rye has held firmly, as it is expected that during the ensuing season Russia will require considerable supplies, owing to a failure of crops. Barley and Oats are few, and generally in bad shipping condition, being light and of inferior quality.

43/1	42/5	67/4	No variation throughout this month.			No variation throughout this month.			2d Quarter. The stocks of Wheat being entirely exhausted in the neighbouring states and Poland, the shipments have been inconsiderable, and the stock on hand low. Rye is also very short, and Oats are very scarce. Memel, 30 June 1840. W. J. Hertsllet, V. Consul.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The stocks of all descriptions of grain are entirely cleared off, and there is barely sufficient to supply the town itself. The large exportations of Rye to St. Petersburg have raised the price for home consumption. The general reports of this year's harvest are favourable; but it is expected the want of heat and incessant rain will have a bad effect on the quality of the crops.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The fluctuations which have taken place in the price of grain during this quarter may be accounted for, from the very variable state of the weather; however, the crops in my consulate have been rather above the average in quantity and quality; and what is rather singular, have been housed earlier and better than in the south.

The common rate of freight from hence to England for Corn and Grain varies from 4s. to 4s. 6d. per quarter, but is subject to a rise when considerable exportations take place. Five quarters go to one ton. The stock on hand is but very trifling (as usual); but it cannot exactly be ascertained, owing to the non-existence of public granaries in this city.

October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. Stock on hand : Very small, not above 3,573 qrs., and above 6,000 quintals of Flour ; about sufficient for one fortnight's consumption. The harvest has been remarkably plentiful throughout the country. The summer, however, having been uncommonly dry, French Beans, Oats, Beans and Pulse, in general, are very scarce, and the prices will probably continue high.

Little variation has taken place in the prices of Wheat; the supply has always been equal to the demand. Stock on hand: Qrs. Wheat - - - 24,198 Exported to England: Wheat - - - 18,583 The demand for the supply of the army in Africa has been continual, and carried off large quantities. Stock on hand, in February, 86,207 qrs. Wheat. The "average prices" taken for this district establish, for this quarter, a duty on importation, in French ships, of 7/11 per quarter, and in foreign ships, 11/1 per quarter. 2d Quarter. About the end of April there was a temporary rise occasioned by the unfavourable appearance of the crops and a demand for the supply of Languedoc, but these causes soon ceased. The stock in consumption is about 20,690 quarters, and that in bond about 62,069 quarters. The average prices for this quarter establish a duty of 5/6½ in French vessels, and 8/7¼ in foreign vessels. About 2,800 qrs. have been sent to England. Marseilles, 30 June 1840. Alexander Turnbull, Consul.

October.					November.					December.					1st Quarter. Wheat can be imported into Spain when that of home produce attains the price of reals vellon 70 per fanega, which is equal to 71 s. 8 d. sterling per Winchester quarter; if imported in foreign vessels, to pay reals vellon 3 per fanega; if in Spanish vessels, free. The importation is now prohibited. Wheat being reals vellon 46. 8. per fanega, and Flour, reals vellon 82. 28. per quintal. Flour can be imported when the home price attains reals vellon 110 per quintal, equal to 24 s. 6 1/2 d. sterling per cwt.; if imported in foreign vessels, to pay reals vellon 4 per quintal; if in Spanish, free. Grain can be exported free. There is not at present any stock of grain in the granaries. There is sufficient for home consumption of the last crops. The crops on the ground do not promise well. Freight to England, 8 s. 2d Quarter. The crop of grain of all sorts just now reaped proves short by about one-half of an average one. Alicante, 30 June 1840. Jaspar Waring, Consul.

The above are the average prices for the quarter.									1st Quarter. There being no Corn market, the only information to be obtained is from the dealers who have open warehouses. Grain had risen in price during the month of February, but towards the end of the month rain fell abundantly, and consequently the prices declined. 2d Quarter. The variety of weather in the month of April, too much rain in some places, and none in others, has caused a short harvest in five of the islands, and none in Fuerteventura and Lanzarote. In consequence, there has been no exportation, and prices have risen. Teneriffe, 30 June 1840. Richard Bartlett, Consul.
October.			November.			December.			3d Quarter. The price of Wheat is something less, in consequence of importations from the Spanish peninsula, where the harvest has been very abundant. Wheat and Barley are sold by struck measure. 4th Quarter. Rain having fallen, and there having been some importation of grain from Spain, the prices have varied but little. For commercial purposes, 4½ fanegas of Wheat are equal to 8 bushels or 1 Winchester quarter. Santa Cruz, 31 December 1840. Richard Bartlett, Consul.

B

Sir Edward Baynes to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

St. Petersburg, August 20, 1840.

I HAD the honour to receive on the 10th instant your Lordship's circular despatch of the 30th June last, inclosing certain queries respecting corn and grain, and requiring my answers thereto.

I lose no time in returning to your Lordship the duplicate copies of the said queries filled up as accurately as local circumstances will allow.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) EDW. ST. BAYNES.

ANSWERS FROM SIR E. BAYNES.

Answer to Query 1.

The district of St. Petersburg does not produce grain sufficient for its own consumption; and the deficiency is supplied from the inland provinces.

Considerable quantities of grain are brought to St. Petersburg for exportation; but the trade being governed by the demand from abroad, is subject to extreme fluctuation, as exemplified by the subjoined statement (A) of exports during the last ten years.

There are extensive tracts of land in the provinces that now supply St. Petersburg, which would, no doubt, be brought into cultivation, were a steady and certain market for corn opened at this place. Owing to these circumstances, it is impossible to estimate with any pretension to accuracy the quantities that might be procured at St. Petersburg under the contingency mentioned in the query.

Nevertheless, the collation of divers opinions has given the following results:—

1st. Supposing the cultivation to continue within its present limits, the provinces that supply St. Petersburg could send down in the years of average crops, besides what is required for local consumption,

Wheat,	from	175,000	to	210,000	imperial	quarters.
Rye	„	105,000	„	140,000	„	„
Barley	„	42,000	„	52,000	„	„
Oats	„	210,000	„	280,000	„	„

2nd. In years of abundance these quantities might be tripled.

In order to give an idea of what this country can produce when the harvests are particularly good, I have been assured by one of the principal corn merchants of Ribinsk (one of the greatest grain marts on the Volga), that in 1835 the Government of Tamboff alone produced 38,000,000 quarters of grain! and the cost to the first hands at St. Petersburg is quoted in the subjoined statement (C).

Answer to Query 2.

The prices would of course vary according to the harvests and demands, and in course of time would also be affected by an increased cultivation. Under ordinary circumstances the prices, free on board, may be estimated as follows:—

Wheat,	Kunbanka (hard)	-	39s. 1d.	per imperial	quarter.
„	Russian (soft)	-	33s. 6d.	„	„
Rye	-	-	19s. 4d.	„	„
Barley	-	-	17s. 11d.	„	„
Oats	-	-	12s. 5d.	„	„

N.B.—The statement (B) on the other side will explain in detail the several charges on Wheat, besides cost in the market; and the aggregate will show the price, free on board, supposing the market to be at 30 roubles per chetwert. (100 chetwerts = about 70 imperial quarters. Average exchange 11d. per bank note rouble.)

Answer to Query 3.

Wheat	from	4s. 5d.	to	5s.	per imperial	quarter.
Rye	„	4s. 4d.	„	4s. 11d.	„	„
Barley	„	3s. 7d.	„	4s.	„	„
Oats	„	3s. 1d.	„	3s. 5d.	„	„

Answer to Query 4.

No. 2.

Mr. Consul Baker to John Bidwell, Esq.

Sir,

British Consulate, Riga, August $\frac{1}{2}$ ⁵, 1840.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your circular despatch of the 30th of last June, forwarding certain queries respecting corn.

I lose no time in forwarding in duplicate my replies, and regret that the importance of the subject, and also my district being so general a mart for corn of all kinds, have prevented my transmitting the desired information in a more condensed shape.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) JAMES BAKER.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL BAKER.

Answer to Query 1.

If the trade in corn in England was made constantly open, at a moderate duty, it could hardly fail, in some degree, to encourage the cultivation of corn in the districts which supply Riga, and consequently increase the supply for exportation at this port of the description of corn principally consumed in England; but there are several causes which would probably operate against any very considerable increase.

First. Rye, the consumption of which is, comparatively, very limited in England, being the kind almost exclusively eaten by all classes in Russia, large quantities being also required for its extensive distilleries, and this description of grain being in regular demand for Holland, the farmers in this country cultivate it in preference to wheat and other corn, and it is not likely that they would feel induced, by any change in the existing English corn laws, to alter their system to any great extent. A decidedly bad harvest in England might, with the certainty of a moderate import duty, tend to turn their attention to wheat, barley, and oats, in preference to rye, were not the principal corn districts too remote from the ports to enable the farmer to get his crop to market sufficiently early for exportation in the same year.

Secondly. The rapid increase of manufactures in this country has withdrawn many hands from tillage, which, in a thinly-populated country like Russia, must operate against any increase of agriculture. In fact, it is considered by many to have contributed to the deficient production of corn in this country for some years past, although this deficiency may be principally attributed to the seasons.

Thirdly. Flax is being yearly more and more cultivated in Russia, and especially in this province, and the neighbouring ones of Esthonia, Courland, Lithuania, and in White Russia, being an article that always finds a ready sale in the Riga market at remunerating prices: which also tends to counteract any great increase in the production of corn: to which may also be added the yearly-extending establishments of beet-root sugar refineries, and cultivation of beet-root, more particularly in the internal provinces of the empire.

Answer to Query 2.

The average prices would depend on the greater or lesser abundance of the harvest in the districts which supply Riga, compared with the foreign demand. This market is quite bare of wheat, barley, and oats at this present moment, but the last prices were,— Roubles 157½ silver* for Russian wheat weighing 128 lbs. per sack or about 60 lbs. English per bushel, being, free on board, 49s. 7d. per quarter.

R. 68 silver for Courland barley, 108 lbs. per sack, or about 48 lbs British per bushel, being free on board about 21s. 10d. per quarter.

R. 68 silver for Russian oats, 77 lbs. per sack, or 36 lbs. per bushel, being free on board about 18s. per quarter.

Rye, weighing $\frac{116}{117}$, or about 55 or 56 lbs. British per bushel, fetches R. 76 silver per last, being free on board about 26s. 4d. per quarter.

As yet, no contracts made for next year's delivery of any article of corn, except rye.

Answer to Query 3.

The freight to England for corn is at present 4s. 9d. per quarter for wheat,—3s. 9d. per quarter for oats to London, which may be considered a moderate freight under any circumstances. There was very little corn for exportation to England this year, or freights would have been higher.

Answer to Query 4.

All the charges incidental on the exportation are included in the above statement of the cost of corn per quarter, free on board, at the present R. prices in Riga.

Answer to Query 5.

The reasons why a quick and very material increase of the production of corn in this country is not to be anticipated, have already been stated in the answer to the first query; but the certainty of a regular and steady demand in England, if such could possibly be attained, would have a great tendency to this increase.

It may not be superfluous to state the greatest quantities of wheat, barley, oats, and rye, that have been exported from Riga to foreign countries since the year 1783:

Of wheat, the greatest exportation was in 1829, viz., 14,644 lasts, or 166,000 quarters, shipped almost entirely to Great Britain.

Of barley, in 1818, viz., 9,587 lasts, or 108,700 quarters, of which about $\frac{5}{8}$ to Great Britain.

Of oats, in 1827, viz., 22,600 lasts, or 316,400 quarters, shipped wholly to Great Britain.

Of rye, in 1807, 66,490 lasts, or 704,800 quarters, but of which only a half went to Great Britain, the remainder having been shipped to Holland.

The districts which principally supply the Port of Riga with corn for exportation, are Courland, Lithuania, and White Russia. The Soil of Livonia (of which Riga is the capital) is not well adapted for the growth of wheat, and mostly produces rye, which is almost entirely consumed in the province, principally for its distilleries. In case of an extensive foreign demand, Riga is also supplied with corn from the more distant provinces of Smolensk, Kaluga, and Orel.

* It is presumed that the words "per last" should be inserted here.

No. 3.

Mr. Consul Kienitz to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

British Consulate, Liebau, August 21, 1840.

I SHOULD not have failed to transmit to your Lordship before this the answers to the queries respecting grain, directed to be given without loss of time, by a circular, dated Foreign Office, June 30th, 1840; however, having received the said despatch no sooner than on the 6th of August, this circumstance, I trust, will apologize for the delay which has taken place.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) FRANCIS KIENITZ.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL KIENITZ.

Answer to Query 1.

Of grain, we hold at this present moment, neither here nor at Windau, any stocks. The harvest of grain in this duchy begins to be made just now, and will not be finished before the expiration of several weeks; it is thus impossible to render at present a decided opinion how the result of the crops is likely to be. Should the weather continue favourable during the harvest-time, the quantities gathered for the export from Liebau and Windau may come to the following extent, say, 30,000 quarters of wheat, 170,000 quarters of rye, 200,000 quarters of barley, and 60,000 quarters of oats. What quantity of this grain, of each kind, could be exported to England, just depends upon the demand from thence and the existing prices. The greatest part of our former supplies was shipped off to Holland and to the interior of Russia.

Answer to Query 2.

At this present moment there is no saying what the average prices free on board would probably be, holding no stocks whatsoever, and because the prices of grain will fix themselves more decisive after the harvest is made, and when it will be known what wants there will appear from abroad.

Answer to Query 3.

The freight to England will probably be from 4*s.* 6*d.* to 5*s.* per quarter of wheat, rye, and barley, in proportion thereof, and 3*s.* 9*d.* to 4*s.* per quarter of oats.

Answer to Query 4.

The exportation of grain—exclusive of the prices free on board—will be subject to the following other charges:—1. Lighterage for bringing part of the cargo out into the roads or bay, if deep going vessels are unable to take in the whole of their cargo in this or the Windau harbour; such charges will come to about 3½*d.* or 4*d.* per quarter, as the season and difficulty of transport might require;—2. Warehouse-rent;—3. Mats for dunnage;—4. Insurance against fire;—5. Sound dues;—and 6. Insurance against danger of the sea.

Answer to Query 5.

The quantity of grain before denoted could not be materially increased, as it contains about the yearly average supply for exportation from this district, after deduction of the quantity for home consumption, and provided no failure of the crops in Courland and Lithuania should have taken place. Our supplies of grain from the interior of the inland are chiefly brought into town, both here as well as at Windau, during the winter season by sledges; orders for the purchase of corn and grain should therefore be given in the beginning of winter,—shipments thereof in the fall of the year, consequently do not come to great extent, provided most peculiar circumstances should give inducement thereto.

Mr. Consul Kienitz to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

British Consulate, Liebau, October 17, 1840.

WITH reference to my despatch of the 21st August this year, whereby I endeavoured answering the queries respecting grain, desired to be given by the circular-letter dated Foreign Office, June 30, 1840, I now hasten to make amends for the second point of query, namely, "What would probably be the average prices of grain free on board?" so precisely as possible, since several considerable contracts for rye have been closed, and the prices for other sorts of grain have become more firmly stipulated.

About 30,000 quarters of rye have been bought, which quantity, after being ground up into meal, is going to be shipped off to St. Petersburg. The prices at this present moment may be stated to be, for wheat 43s. 7d., for rye 25s. 9d., for barley 18s. 7d., and for oats 11s. 4d. sterling per quarter, imperial measure free on board, for the first rate qualities. Should, however, the demand for rye and barley continue, there is very little doubt but what prices thereof will experience some farther advance, whereas it is likely again that those of wheat and also of oats will be subject to a decline.

With regard to the rate of freights, no change whatsoever has taken place of late.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) FRANCIS KIENITZ.

No. 4.

Mr. Consul-General Yeames to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

Odessa, October 8, 1840.

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's circular, dated the 30th of June; and to return inclosed the two papers containing queries on the subject of grain, with my answers, as far as the Russian ports in the Black Sea and Asoph are concerned.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) JAMES YEAMES.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL GENERAL YEAMES.

Answer to Query 1.

Considering the annual exportation of wheat from Odessa during the last ten years, (from 1830 to 1839 inclusive,) averaging 581,340 quarters; and considering likewise the claims of old markets of consumption, it is presumed that more than 100,000 quarters could not be diverted by a new source of demand, without materially disturbing the market of Odessa; and more positively so, if that quantity is to be subtracted from the supply of the finer qualities. From the Asoph, where the exportation has averaged about 450,000 quarters annually, but where the demand from old customers is more special and peremptory on account of quality, the extra supply, on the same conditions, would probably not exceed 50,000 quarters. These limits would, of course, recede according to prices. Of rye, barley, and oats, an opinion cannot be founded on facts or experience, for these articles have never been regularly supplied for exportation from these ports.

Answer to Query 2.

The average price at Odessa of wheat of fine quality, during the same period, has been 26s. 6d. per quarter free on board. The remunerating price of wheat delivered at Odessa has been said to be 15 Roubles per chetvert, making at exchange of 22 Roubles per pound sterling, 21s. 8d. on board; but if the quality is to be chosen, the cost will be nearer 25s. on board, even in times of no excitement.

In the Asoph prices are lower, but the difference is about made up by the higher charges and freight. These markets of supply are extremely susceptible, at the appearance of demand, and prices rise much quicker than they fall, when stocks are held in second hands. At present, (September, 1840,) the price of good wheat on board is 32s. 6d., though without a visible demand from abroad.

Answer to Query 3.

The British trade in the Black Sea and Asoph is generally provided with shipping by charters made in England. At Odessa freights vary excessively; and within the two last years they have been from 21s. 6d. to 6s. 2d. per quarter. A fair freight is supposed to be 10s. per quarter, equal to 3l. 5s. per ton.

Answer to Query 4.

None here. The insurances are made in England.

Answer to Query 5.

There would be no material increase, and certainly not in a short space of time. 1st. Because in Podolia and Kievy, whence Odessa derives its principal supplies, the greatest quantity possible of grain is at all times produced without regard to price and demand, in consequence of capital being vested in slave labour, which is not otherwise to be employed. 2ndly. Because the plains, called steppes, adjacent to the Black Sea and Asoph are thinly peopled, so that in years when crops are abundant they are seen suffering on the ground for want of reapers. 3rdly. Because on these steppes crops are exceedingly precarious, by reason of drought, the common calamity of this climate; of the high winds, which carry off the seed from the dusty soil; of the early thaws and subsequent frosts without snow. 4thly. Because tillage is defective, and improvement difficult under the present circumstances of the country. 5thly. Because distances are great, and communications unaided by art, there being no roads, and the rivers being unnavigable. 6thly. Because the landholders are impoverished, and most of them indebted to the crown, and the working classes are degraded by their condition of slavery. 7thly. Because no progressive improvements are to be expected in Russia, until great organic changes are brought about, or so long as the real interests of the country are sacrificed to an anticommercial policy. Very high prices may indeed cause at times a greater exportation, not by increase of production, but by extending the circle of supply.

No. 5.

Colonel Barnett to John Bidwell, Esq.

Sir,

Warsaw, September 15, 1840.

I HAVE the honour herewith to return to you the queries respecting grain transmitted to me in your circular of the 30th of June, with my answers annexed to them.

I have taken the exportation of grain of the year 1837, which was unusually large, as the quantity that might be exported to England were the trade open at a moderate duty.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) C. J. BARNETT.

ANSWERS FROM COLONEL BARNETT.

Answer to Query 1.

Of wheat about 300,000 imperial quarters; rye 230,000; oats 17,490; barley 17,400, might be exported from Poland.

Answer to Query 2.

The average price of 11. 4s. per imperial quarter at the river's side would repay the growers. The expense of water carriage to Danzig, Prussian transit duty, and charges on shipment may be taken at 12s. per imperial quarter.

Answer to Query 3.

This question must be answered at the ports.

Answer to Query 4.

None.

Answer to Query 5.

The quantity of wheat grown in Poland has considerably increased in the last six years; and the production might no doubt be farther gradually increased if there were a steady demand for foreign corn in England; but the deficiency of manure, the scarcity of hands, and the want of skill in the cultivation of the land would operate against any large immediate increase.

My Lord,

British Consulate, Stockholm, August 29, 1840.

I HAVE the honour to return herewith the "queries respecting grain," with the answers annexed, as required by your Lordship's circular of the 30th June.

From the best information, I find that the crops in Sweden vary in quantity and in quality more than in any other European country; but taking six years (as per annexed table), it appears that there are two abundant, three ordinary, and one insufficient harvest.

The loss of Pomerania, and the necessity of supplying Norway with grain, gave an impulse to agriculture, and instead of requiring the supply of one-third, as formerly (before 1823), Sweden can now export one-third of the produce, and that is sent chiefly to Norway, but the quantity of wheat has always been inconsiderable, and this year (1840), it will not be an average crop. In reference to the freight, if a regular supply were wanted, the shipping prices would probably be lower.

I have, &c.,

ANSWERS FROM SIR JOHN ROSS.

Answer to Query 1.

Wheat	-	-	-	-	1,000	quarters
Oats	-	-	-	-	12,000	"
Barley	-	-	-	-	10,000	"
Rye	-	-	-	-	2,000	"

This amount does not include the Coast west of Carlskroun, which exports most grain; the whole of Sweden could export 125,000 quarters (of all sorts) of grain.

Answer to Query 2.

Wheat, 30s. to 35s.; oats, 11s. to 12s.; barley, 15s. to 18s.; rye, 22s. to 24s.

This includes the Ports of Stockholm, Norkoping, Wisby, Westerwick, and Calmar.

Answer to Query 3.

From the East Coast, the freight, 3s. 6d. to 6s.

This includes the Ports of Stockholm, Norkoping, Wisby, Westerwick, and Calmar.

Answer to Query 4.

There is no duty on the exportation of grain ; the prices are always free on board.

This includes the Ports of Stockholm, Nerköping, Wisby, Westerwick, and Calmar.

Answer to Query 5.

The East Coast of Sweden is capable of a great extension of agriculture, and will progressively increase, but not in a short time, for want of capital.

Foreign capital would be required.

No. 7.

Mr. Consul Plaw to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

British Consulate, Danzig, August 15, 1840.

I HAD the honour of receiving circular by your Lordship's direction, dated 30th June, but which reached my hands on the 12th instant, and which accounts for my not being able to answer the queries "respecting corn and grain" before to-day.

I have sent copies of the questions to my several Vice-Consuls, and as answers are received, they will be forwarded.

I am, &c.,

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL PLAW.

Answer to Query 1.

As during the last three years the demand for Britain has been considerable, we may take the shipments of this period to be a fair average of what could be exported, "if the trade in corn, in England, was made constantly open at a moderate duty,"—say, about 30,000 lasts, wheat, 10,000 lasts, rye, 4000 lasts, barley, and 1000 lasts, oats, per last of $10\frac{1}{2}$ quarters, particularly, as corn imported into Britain during these three years had to pay what, taken upon an average, will perhaps amount to the proposed "moderate duty." Great proportion of the importation of 1838, and the stock then in bond, came in at 1s. duty; the greater part of that imported in 1839, and during the present year, has had, and will have to pay 10s., 13s., or 16s. per quarter; on the other hand, it is to be considered, the stocks of corn in this country and in Poland had been accumulating three or four years previous to 1838, when the low averages in Britain were so discouraging for shipments; there is therefore a greater chance of less, than of a larger average quantity being shipped.

Answer to Query 2.

About 40s. per quarter	-	Wheat free on board
" 20s. "	-	Rye ditto.
" 18s. "	-	Barley ditto.
" 12s. "	-	Oats ditto.

Answer to Query 3.

3s. 6d. to 4s., taking for granted that this would pay the British ship-owners, who would probably be the principal carriers.

Answer to Query 4.

The above charges, No. 2, being free on board, there is no apprehension of any additional exportation charges; for the Prussian Government is too enlightened not to encourage, under all circumstances, the exportation of the principal article, (perhaps next to wool,) which it has to throw into the balance of its foreign trade; but it is bound in this respect by the Treaty of Vienna, which stipulates, that the duties to be levied by the Governments of Austria, Russia and Prussia, conjointly, on all articles of trade, the produce of the soil of the ancient Polish provinces, are not to exceed 10% on the prime cost. These 10% are completely covered by the transit duties in Russian Poland; and by the Prussian duties now levied at Thorn, where vessels which bring down corn from Poland, have to report their cargoes upon entering the Prussian dominions.

Answer to Query 5.

The chief export of grain from this Port is the produce of Poland, consequently it is not to be ascertained here, what effect a change in the British Corn Laws might produce among the corn-growers of that Country. and which would, in some measure, depend upon what way of Government it may in future experience on the part of Russia; but as regards this part of Prussia, it is considered to be at present in such an advanced state of cultivation, that a larger supply for shipment could not be expected, at least not to any extent, than the last three years have supplied.

ANSWERS FROM MR. VICE-CONSUL BROCKMANN.

British Vice-Consulate, Königsberg, August 17, 1840.

Answer to Query 1.

During the last fifteen years, from 1825 to 1839, both inclusive, there were exported from this place 316,399 lasts of all sorts of grain, exclusive of oilseeds. This gives an average quantity per annum of 21,093½ lasts, or 221,476 imperial quarters, which it appears would be the quantity that might be exported from this port annually, if the trade in corn was made constantly open, and perhaps from 30,000 to 40,000 quarters more, if taken into calculation those districts that also ship by the outport Pillau. The probable annual exportation of Königsberg and Pillau, therefore might be from 250,000 to 260,000 quarters of grain, and would probably consist of

About 65,000	quarters of	Wheat.
" 100,000	"	Rye.
" 20,000	"	Barley.
" 40,000	"	Oats.
And " 35,000	"	Pease and Beans.

Q

Answer to Query 2.

The probable average prices free on board, in case the trade was open, might, as near as it is possible to give an opinion, be about,

From 40s. to 45s. per quarter for Wheat.
„	18s. to 20s.	„	„ Rye.
„	14s. to 18s.	„	„ Barley.
„	10s. to 14s.	„	„ Oats.
And „	20s. to 25s.	„	„ Pease and Beans.

Answer to Query 3.

The freight from hence to England would probably be from 4s. to 5s. per quarter wheat for the East, and from 5s. to 6s. per quarter for the West Coast of England.

Answer to Query 4.

The exportation is subject to no other charges, but about 1s. per quarter shipping charges, which are included in the above prices free on board, and the well-known Sound dues at Elsinore.

Answer to Query 5.

The quantity of corn produced in this part of Prussia and the adjoining districts, is not likely to be materially increased, as most farmers produce but a certain quantity of grain, which they cannot well exceed, and they are since a good many years accustomed to turn and devote their exertions more towards breeding sheep, horses, and cattle, which, particularly by producing wool, it appears answers them better than growing corn.

J. D. BROCKMANN.

No. 9.

ANSWERS FROM MR. VICE-CONSUL PETERSON.

British Vice-Consulate, Stettin, August 22, 1840.

Answer to Query 1.

As the crop of all kind of grain is considered this year to be very favourable in quantity and quality in this part of Prussia, and also in Silesia, the exportation to Great Britain may, if a moderate duty admits of it, amount to—

About 250,000 imperial quarters of Wheat.
„	40,000	„	„ Rye.
„	30,000	„	„ Barley.
„	20,000	„	„ Oats.
„	10,000	„	„ Pease.

Answer to Query 2.

The prices of grain are regulated here by those of the English markets; the farmers can afford to produce the same at 35s. for wheat, 20s. for rye, barley at 18s., oats at 12s., and peas at 22s. per quarter free on board, but it is believed, if prices keep moderate in Great Britain, wheat can be laid on board at 40s., rye at 22s., barley at 20s., oats at 14s., and peas at 24s. per quarter imperial.

Answer to Query 3.

The freight will probably average from 4s. to 5s. per quarter wheat for London.

Answer to Query 4.

There exists no export duty on grain; the expences of screening, loading, and commission, are included in the prices free on board.

Answer to Query 5.

The production of all kind of grain and corn has these two to three years been extended to a considerable degree; it is therefore not expected the Landholders can much augment the same, the cultivating of additional soil not being in their system of agriculture, particularly as the production of oil-seed, of potatoes for spirits, and pasture and food for sheep and cattle has been so advantageous to them for to curtail the same to any considerable degree.

No. 10.

Mr. Consul Plaw to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord, British Consulate, Dansig, September 4, 1840.

ENCLOSED are the answers to "Queries respecting Corn and Grain," from Mr. Vice-Consul W. J. Hertslet at Memel, which I have the honour of forwarding by your Lordship's direction.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) H. R. PLAW.

ANSWERS FROM MR. VICE-CONSUL HERTSLET.

Memel, September 1, 1840.

Answer to Query 1.

The quantity of grain shipped from here last year, when the duty averaged very low, was,

Wheat	-	-	-	-	5,964	quarters
Rye	-	-	-	-	45,759	"
Barley	-	-	-	-	15,466 $\frac{1}{2}$	"
Oats	-	-	-	-	20,024 $\frac{1}{2}$	"

and it cannot be expected that the export, under the most favourable circumstances, can exceed that of 1839, as the demand for grain of all descriptions was general throughout, even in Russia.

Answer to Query 2.

35s. for wheat, 27s. for rye, 15s. for barley, 10s. to 12s. for oats, per quarter, free on board, would be most probably the average prices of these articles.

Answer to Query 3.

Between 4s. and 5s. per quarter for wheat, other grain in proportion. The freights here are chiefly regulated by the timber freights.

Answer to Query 4.

Beyond those which at present exist, No.

Answer to Query 5.

The quality of the land in this district would for some time prevent the sowing of more wheat than is at present the case, but should the landholders find a regular and certain demand for their produce, even at a moderate price, they would naturally make exertions to avail themselves of that branch of agriculture which is not exposed to so many drawbacks as the climate and pasture, combined with the fluctuating prices of wool, render the breeding of sheep and cattle in this country. So that, in four or five years, about a fourth more grain would be cultivated. This depends, however, entirely upon how high the fixed duty is. Ten shillings per quarter for wheat would be worse for the landholders here than the present system, as then a high average price would be brought out; for instance,

Prime cost	-	-	-	-	35s.	per quarter,
Freight, insurance, landing charges, &c.	-	-	-	-	10s.	"
Duty	-	-	-	-	10s.	"

Total - - - 55s. per quarter;

Whereby many years would come wherein the merchants here could not export at all.

W. J. HERTSLET.

Mr. Consul Macgregor to John Bidwell, Esq.

Sir,

Elsinore, August 15, 1840.

I HAVE the honour of returning to you, inclosed, the several queries respecting grain, which I have endeavoured to answer as accurately as possible. In support of the statements therein made, I further transmit, 1st, a return of the quantities of corn exported from this country during the last twenty years; 2nd, a return of the prices of the several sorts of corn in Denmark during the last twenty-five years, calculated in sterling per imperial quarter, to which I have added the corresponding average prices of wheat, and the nature of the seasons in England, with the amount of foreign and colonial wheat and flour imported for consumption under the existing corn laws.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) FRANCIS C. MACGREGOR.

Sir,

Elsinore, August 18, 1840.

WITH reference to my despatch of the 15th inst., I have the honour of transmitting to you a general summary of the quantities of grain, flour, bread, malt, and seeds, exported from Denmark and Sleswick Holstein, during the period of twenty years, from 1820 to 1839, calculated in imperial quarters at the rate of four bushels to the Danish corn barrel, and showing an average exportation of 888,611 quarters per annum.

On comparing Return No. 3 with the Return No. 1, a slight difference will be found in the number of quarters exported from 1831 to 39, owing to the Danish measure having therein been reduced in the proportion of sixty Danish barrels to twenty-nine imperial quarters, as adopted by the trade. It however being generally presumed, that the quantities in the Returns of Exports made up by the Customs, are rather below the annual amount really exported, I am inclined to think that the number of quarters expressed in the inclosed Returns are pretty near the mark.

(Signed) FRANCIS C. MACGREGOR.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL MACGREGOR.

Answer to Query 1.

It appears from the annexed official returns, marked No. 1, that the average quantities of corn annually exported from Denmark and Sleswick Holstein during the last twenty years amounted to 106,736 quarters of wheat, 135,851 quarters of rye, 302,752 quarters of barley, and 172,170 quarters of oats; total, 717,509 quarters of grain, besides a considerable quantity exported in the form of flour, groats, malt, and gin. Hitherto the farmers have chiefly devoted their attention to the culture of barley for the supply of Norway, which offered them the advantage of a permanent sale of a product particularly adapted to the soil and climate of the country. However, in the event of the trade in corn in England being constantly made open at a moderate duty, the production of wheat, and of corn generally, will probably be increased to such an extent, that from 150,000 to 200,000 quarters of wheat, 250,000 to 300,000 quarters of barley, and from 200,000 to 250,000 quarters of oats, would be the least quantities which might be expected to be shipped from Denmark for the British markets in years of common fertility. Rye, I presume, would hardly form an export article to England, nor is its cultivation likely to augment in the same proportion as the other descriptions of corn.

Answer to Query 2.

The annexed returns, No. 2, will show that the average prices of corn in Denmark during the last twenty-five years have been, 28s. 10d. for wheat, 19s. 9d. for rye, 14s. for barley, and 16s. 10d. for oats. Considering, however, the depression of the corn market during the greater part of that period, and the prospect of a permanent sale of corn in England being likely to render the continental markets more steady and firm than they have hitherto been, I am inclined to think, that in the event of an abolition of the corn laws, the prices, free on board, would not be much below the following quotations: Wheat from 30s. to 36s., rye from 22s. to 25s., barley from 16s. to 24s., and oats from 12s. to 15s. sterling per imperial quarter.

Answer to Query 3.

The freight for wheat from a Danish port to the east coast of England varies from 3s. to 3s. 6d. per quarter in summer, and from 4s. 6d. to 5s. in winter, and for the other sorts in proportion. To the west coast it is generally from 3d. to 6d. higher.

Answer to Query 4.

The exportation from Denmark of grain being allowed duty free, there are no other charges attending the same but insurance and commission, which are to be added to the prices free on board, above quoted.

Answer to Query 5.

From what I have already stated in my reply to Query 1, there can be no doubt that in case of a regular and steady demand in England for foreign corn, the quantity produced in Denmark and Sleswick-Holstein would without difficulty, and in a short space of time, be materially increased, as has already been the case of late years, in consequence of the improvements made in husbandry, and of large tracts of waste lands having been brought under cultivation by an increasing population, chiefly agricultural. Hitherto the farmers have raised but little corn in the expectation of disposing of it in England, a market to which they only had access occasionally, and under particular circumstances, and therefore, independently of rye (the bread corn of the country), and of barley (constantly in demand for the supply of Norway), the culture of rapeseed, pease, beans, and tares, and the breeding of cattle, was more generally resorted to than would otherwise have been done. However, this state of things is likely materially to change on the British ports being opened for the importation of foreign corn at a moderate duty, as the important advantages held out by a permanent supply of the British markets would act as an additional stimulus in inducing the agriculturists of this country to extend and improve their tillage.

REMARK.—The prices from 1815 to 1833 have been derived from Mr. Nathanson's work upon the present commercial and financial state of Denmark, published in 1836, and those for the remaining six years are supplied from the Quarterly Corn Returns transmitted by the Consul. The Danish corn barrel has been computed as containing four imperial bushels, and the currency is reduced at the rate of 4s. 6d. sterling per dollar specie of two rixbank dollars.

Elthorne, August, 1840.

FRANCIS C. MACGREGOR, Consul.

No. 12.

Mr. Consul-General Canning to John Bidwell, Esq.

Sir,

Hamburg, August 31, 1840.

I HAVE had the honour to receive your circular letter, dated the 30th of June, containing, in duplicate, queries respecting corn and grain, which, in compliance with Viscount Palmerston's desire, I return herewith, with my answers written thereon.

In order to make the answers more intelligible, it may be necessary for me however to explain :

First, that the quantities of grain which, in answer to the first question, I have stated could be exported from this district to England, consist, as regards Hamburg and Bremen, not of grain grown on land belonging to those towns, for they produce none, but of grain grown in the interior, in Anhalt, the neighbourhood of Magdeburg, &c., and sent down the Elbe and the Weser for exportation, while the corn exported from Lübeck, Rostock, Wismar, Kiel, &c., is the growth of the duchies in this district.

Second, that the quantities stated are taken on the average of years in which the largest export has taken place, under the most encouraging circumstances ; but it is to be observed, that in some particular years larger quantities than this average have been exported, as for instance in the last year, 1839, when 380,000 quarters of wheat were shipped at Hamburg.

A statement which has been made to me by a practical merchant of this city, shews that the average export from Hamburg of all sorts of grain, including rape and linseed, in forty years, has been only about 193,000 quarters per annum, and in twenty years, from 1820 to 1839, about 240,000 quarters per annum.

In the last forty years the largest exports have been in

1830	-	-	about 455,200 quarters,
1831	-	-	about 409,800 ,,
1839	-	-	about 496,900 ,,

of all kinds of grain.

In the last twenty years the smallest export has been in

1821	-	-	about 85,000 quarters,
1822	-	-	about 90,600 ,,
1835	-	-	about 100,000 ,,

of all kinds of grain.

In seven years, from 1825 to 1831, the average export was about 327,850 quarters of all kinds of grain, being an increase on the average of the before-mentioned twenty years ; and on the other hand, the average export of the five preceding years, from 1820 to 1824, was only about 123,257 quarters ; and the average of five years following the before-mentioned twenty years, was also below that average, being only about 167,470 quarters. The average export of all kinds of grain from Hamburg in the last twenty years being 240,000 quarters, and the average of the seven largest export years being 327,800 quarters—supposing the corn trade of England to be open at a fixed moderate duty—it may be presumed that the average exportable quantity may be permanently raised to about the average of the largest export years, or to 327,850 quarters of all kinds of grain, of which quantity, wheat may be 220,000 quarters, but how much thereof can be appropriated to England will depend on what may be wanted for Holland, France, Spain, Portugal, and other countries, which are as much, or more dependent on Germany for supplies of grain than England is. But it must always be remembered, that the increased and increasing population of this country and district, requiring an increased quantity of grain for home consumption, will prevent any material increase in the quantity of grain that can be spared for export, and will also prevent prices from falling. It is calculated that in some places in this district, nine-tenths of the whole production is required for home use, and not more than one-tenth remains for export.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) HENRY CANNING.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL-GENERAL CANNING.

Answer to Query 1.

Oats	6,900	No return.	40,000	7,000	5,000	49,793			50,000	158,693

Answer to Query 2.

Wheat	-	-	-	35s. to 46s. per quarter.
Rye	-	-	-	23s. to 30s. „
Barley	-	-	-	20s. to 25s. „
Oats	-	-	-	11s. to 16s. „

N.B.—It is not to be expected that the prices would be lower than the lowest of the average, unless, indeed, an over abundant production in Great Britain should, at any time, prevent a demand for foreign corn, but on the contrary, that they would be higher, in consequence of the encouragement given to export from hence.

Answer to Query 3.

From 2s. 6d. to 5s. per quarter, but in extraordinary cases might be 8s. to 10s. per quarter.

Answer to Query 4.

No: unless the Government were to put any duty on export, not at present contemplated.

Answer to Query 5.

Probably not: because as much land is already appropriated in this district to the growth of corn, as the system of husbandry established in these Duchies and the encouragement given to grazing in them will admit of. Wool, butter, and potatoes for distillation, having for many years been profitable produce to the farmer, he will not easily be induced to give up the cultivation of the latter, or to sell off his sheep and cattle, which, moreover, afford manure positively necessary for the cultivation of grain. But although the quantity of corn may not be materially increased in a short space of time, the kind of corn may be changed, and more wheat, but less of other grain, under such a change of circumstances, may be grown than at present. Still, however, this will occur only to a limited extent, and at times when high prices in other countries may encourage the export of wheat, for the habits of the people in this district causing a demand for rye for home use, the demand for it in other countries, and the nature of the soil being generally fitter for the cultivation of rye, will always have a tendency to prevent any great extension of the growth of wheat in these countries. But should any increased cultivation take place in the interior of Germany, an increased exportation from Hamburg and Bremen, &c., may follow.

No. 13.

Sir Alexander Ferrier to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

British Consulate, Rotterdam, August 21, 1840.

HAVING received Mr. Bidwell's circular, dated 30th June last, transmitting, by your Lordship's desire, in duplicate a series of questions respecting grain, I lost no time in applying to the best sources for information on that subject, and I have now the honour to return herewith the two printed sets of queries, with the answers in each.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ALEX. FERRIER.

ANSWERS FROM SIR ALEXANDER FERRIER.

Answer to Query 1.

As Holland is, to a very great extent, the granary for Northern Europe, as well as for the Rhénal States, it would be extremely difficult to determine beforehand what effect the opening of the trade in corn in England, at a moderate duty, would have in respect to the "quantity of grain" which might, under such circumstances, be exported from this country.

Confining, however, the consideration of the question, in the first instance, to the effect which such a measure would have on the production of Holland, and without reference to the foreign corn housed here, it will be necessary simultaneously to determine the query No. 5.

Answer to Query 2.

It is not without diffidence that we venture to give it as our opinion, that the average prices, in ordinary seasons, would probably be as follows:—

Wheat (white Zealand) about 55s. per quarter, free on board.
Oats, feed	-	-	15s.
„ brew	-	-	22s.
Beans, horse	-	-	20s.
„ tick	-	-	25s.
Peas, white	-	-	32s.
„ blue	-	-	34s.

Answer to Query 3.

Freights will probably rule from 2s. to 2s. 6d. per quarter, with 10 per cent. primage.

Answer to Query 4.

No other charge would be incurred, except the premium of insurance, varying with the season from $\frac{3}{4}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Answer to Query 5.

In a general point of view, we are inclined to say that this must in a great degree depend upon the prices which England may be able to offer to the foreign grower.

WHEAT.—It has been ascertained that more wheat is now grown in Holland than is required for home consumption; but the major part raised is not of a quality adapted to the English market; and even that description of white wheat which is grown in Zealand, weighing on an average about 60lbs. per bushel, and which formerly used to be esteemed in Mark Lane, has of late years only held a very secondary rank in England, being considered to be less productive than other wheat of the same weight. On the other hand, this description of wheat, being highly prized in this country, is sure to command a high price for the home trade; and, although the opening of the corn trade in England might, in extraordinary cases, such as the failure of the crops, lead to an increased demand for foreign corn, we are not disposed to think that it would, in ordinary seasons, have the effect of materially increasing the production of wheat in this country.

RYE.—The growth of Holland is seldom or never exported.

BARLEY.—The growth of Holland is of a quality quite unsuitable to the English market, being generally very thin and light, rarely exceeding a weight of 47lbs. per bushel.

OATS.—This description of corn is more likely to be affected by a change of the corn laws in England than any other, as far as regards an extended cultivation; because the oats grown in this country are generally of a superior quality, and much esteemed in England, the feed oats averaging a weight of 37lbs., and the brew of 42lbs. per bushel. During the last few years, the quantity raised has been barely adequate to the demand, notwithstanding the English ports have been closed; and if, therefore, a regular and steady demand, at prices sufficiently remunerating to the grower, were to arise, it may be safely assumed that an increased cultivation would speedily ensue. The average quantity annually raised during the last five years, throughout Holland, is estimated at about 800,000 quarters.

BEANS and PEAS are both likely to be grown in greater quantity; but having no means of ascertaining the extent of present cultivation, it is impossible to say what the quantity might be raised, if a demand from England were steadily to prevail.

Having replied to the above queries, with reference to the production of Holland, it may be proper briefly now to add, that a change in the corn laws in England would most probably have the effect of filling the granaries in Holland with foreign wheat from Poland, the Baltic, and especially the Rhenal States, from whence it would be consigned in large quantities to houses in Holland, who are in the habit of making liberal advances on such consignments; and as the red wheat, averaging a weight of 61lbs. per bushel, and upwards, is of a description much esteemed in England, being very kindly and productive, we think the cultivation would be greatly increased in those districts, and that, consequently, the quantity of foreign-grown wheat which could be exported from this country, if the trade in corn in England were to be made constantly open, at a moderate duty, would be very considerable.

No. 14.

Mr. Consul Johnson to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

Antwerp, August 7, 1840.

I HAVE the honour to return you inclosed the queries respecting grain, with answers.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) GODSCHALL JOHNSON.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL JOHNSON.

Answer to Query 1.

Grain in transit would be shipped from Antwerp, but the growth of Belgium none. The exportation of wheat and rye is at present prohibited, and with an augmented population, the quantity of land cultivated for flax, beetroot, and chickory, which is increasing throughout Brabant, Limburg, and Liege, has so diminished the growth of corn, that there is a deficiency of produce.

Answer to Query 2.

Would depend on circumstances that cannot be calculated. The present prices are, per quarter, for wheat 2*l.* 16*s.* 5*d.*, for rye 1*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*, for barley 1*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*, and for oats 1*l.* 2*s.* 1*d.*

Answer to Query 3.

The present freight would be, to London 2*s.* to 2*s.* 6*d.* per quarter, with 10 per cent. average; to Hull 2*s.* to 2*s.* 6*d.* per quarter, and to Liverpool 3*s.* to 3*s.* 6*d.* per quarter. These freights are quoted per quarter of wheat; for other grain they are in proportion, for barley 20 per $\%$ less, for oats 30 per $\%$. Besides, they entirely depend upon the number of vessels in the port.

Answer to Query 4.

The exportation of all grain is subject to a low duty by weight, which cannot be accurately stated as to measure.

Answer to Query 5.

It is not probable under any circumstances that the growth of corn in this country would be influenced by the demand in England.

No. 15.

Mr. Consul Goodwin to John Bidwell, Esq.

*British Consulate of Sicily, Palermo,
September 3, 1840.*

Sir,

I HAVE had the honour to receive your circular of the 30th June, transmitting in duplicate "queries on corn and grain," and desiring me to answer them as accurately as possible.

In obedience to your instructions, I inclose to you both copies of such queries and answers, accompanied by a few observations on the Corn Trade of Sicily, which, I hope, will not be considered irrelevant.*

I have, &c.,
(Signed) JNO. GOODWIN.

ANSWERS FROM MR. CONSUL GOODWIN.

Answer to Query 1.

About 200,000 quarters of hard wheat in abundant harvests. In average harvests little or none. The present production of 1,800,000 quarters, barely serves for the consumption of 1,800,000 souls, the present population of Sicily.

Answer to Query 2.

In abundant harvests 1*l.* 12*s.* per imperial quarter.

In average harvests 1*l.* 18*s.* „ „

Answer to Query 3.

About 7*s.* 6*d.* freight, and 9*d.* primage.

Answer to Query 4.

To none other.

Answer to Query 5.

The production would increase within three or four years, could the farmer be sure of obtaining 35*s.* per imperial quarter, free on board, for his hard wheat.

CORN TRADE OF SICILY.

Sicily has been celebrated from the earliest ages, as a Corn-growing Country. Wheat, the chief food of her inhabitants, is said to have been the natural product of her soil, and the art of cultivation to have been taught to the Aborigines by the Goddess Ceres.

Discarding such traditions, as belonging to fable, we shall state in few words, that agriculture, introduced by the Sicanians, was improved by the Greek Colonists, promoted by the tyrant Gelo, and carried to the highest pitch under Hiero, the second King of Syracuse.

Under Gelo, the starving Romans received 800 quarters of wheat as a free gift (B.C. 490), and obtained 800 more upon moderate terms. Under Hiero, large presents of corn were made to the Roman people, upon sundry occasions, by their generous Ally (B.C. 237 to B.C. 215).

Conquered by the Romans (B.C. 210), Sicily served for a long time as the granary of the Republic. Her stores, however, were not inexhaustible. Oppressed by the weight, the taxes, she sank into poverty, within a century and a half after the Roman conquest.

Under Hiero, when the farmer paid no other tax than the tenth of his crop, the annual production of Syracuse was computed at a million of quarters. Under the Romans, when the farmer paid, not only the tenth, but other taxes besides, (insomuch that the aggregate was equal in value to one-fourth of his crop,) the production of all Sicily did not, in the time of Cicero (B.C. 70), exceed that of Syracuse alone, under the reign of Hiero.

Under the Saracen Dominion (A.D. 827 to A.D. 1090), agriculture, less burthened with taxes, recovered a large share of its ancient prosperity. All lands, by whomsoever owned, whether by Sicilians or Saracens, were subject to the Karez, a tax payable in money upon every piece of ground, that was ploughed by a yoke of oxen, and sown with a quarter of wheat. The exact amount is not known, but it seems to have been less than the value of a tenth; because, when the Aasciar or full tenth was imposed by the Emirs, the farmers rebelled, and the rebellion proving successful, the Karez was re-established to the public satisfaction.

In modern times, that is to say, from the Norman conquest, in A.D. 1090, until the conquest by Charles III., in 1735, the production of the island, the taxes paid by the farmer, and the prices of corn and grain, are unknown particulars. We gather, indeed, from history, that scarcity and abundance succeeded each other at short intervals; but these occasional notices are insufficient to form the groundwork of an authentic statement. It appears, however, that during the last quarter of the eighteenth century, and the first quarter of the nineteenth, Sicily was a corn-exporting Country to Malta and Gibraltar. The quantity exported is unknown; the average prices are recorded.

An abstract of the record will be found below*.

In 1826, or soon afterwards, Sicily ceased to be a corn-exporting Country in general, and sank into a mere producer for home consumption. This change in her character is commonly attributed to the intolerable weight of the land-tax, which exceeds 25 per cent. on the rental. Hopes have, indeed, been held out, that the rate shall be reduced one-half; but there is little prospect that these hopes will be realized for ten years to come.

The present production of corn and grain in Sicily, may be estimated at 1,800,000 quarters of wheat, and 1,000,000 quarters of barley per annum.

The wheat chiefly cultivated is the hard kind, which is divided into two species, the coarse or palmentella, used for household bread, and the fine or castiglione, used for maccaroni. The coarse weighs about 462 pounds per quarter, the fine about 483 pounds. Both species are too hard to be ground by English mill-stones.

The soft wheat, used for French bread, is light and liable to spoil, if kept beyond a twelvemonth in granary. It weighs about 476 pounds a quarter.

Barley, used as provender for horses, weighs about 378 pounds a quarter. It is not suited to the English market.

Sir Edward Baynes, Her Majesty's Consul at St. Petersburg, to Viscount Palmerston.

(Extract.)

St. Petersburg, September 1, 1841.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's circular despatch of the 14th ultimo, inclosing two copies of the correspondence relative to Foreign Grain which has been submitted to both Houses of Parliament, and desiring me to peruse those papers attentively.

I am extremely sorry to say, that I have discovered a mistake in the reduction from Russian to British currency, at foot of statement C. in my Report of the 20th of August, 1840.

This error which fortunately does not affect the direct answers to the Queries, I have corrected in the statement which I herewith transmit to your Lordship in duplicate.

No. 2.

Sir Edward Baynes to John Bidwell, Esq.

(Extract.)

St. Petersburg, September 10, 1841.

HAVING read in the report of the debates in the House of Commons that doubts have arisen as to the possibility of the Government of Tamboff having produced in 1835 the quantity of grain alluded to in my Report, I hasten to transmit to you the extract from a written statement given to me by one of the principal members of the British Factory, upon which my remark was founded. I have however requested that gentleman to make further inquiry on the subject and let me know the result, which I shall not fail to communicate to you the moment I receive it. You cannot form yourself an idea of the difficulty of obtaining any thing like precise statistical information at this place.

Inclosure.

"Monday, August 17, 1840.

"I have to apologize to you for not having sooner replied to your inquiry on the subject of the quantities of grain, and average prices; the delay has arisen from the impossibility, in fact, of getting anything like positive statements on the first point; and I wished to confer with a corn merchant from Ribinsk, one of the greatest corn markets on the Volga, before I communicated with you.

"In order to give an idea of what this country can produce when harvests are particularly favourable, he has stated that in 1835 the quantity of grain produced in the Government of Tamboff alone was 55 millions of chetwerts.*

"* 55 million Chetwerts—38,500,000 Imperial Quarters."
